Modelling Simulation Learning Technologies (MDFD MSLT)

COL Stephen BANKS

Oct 2024

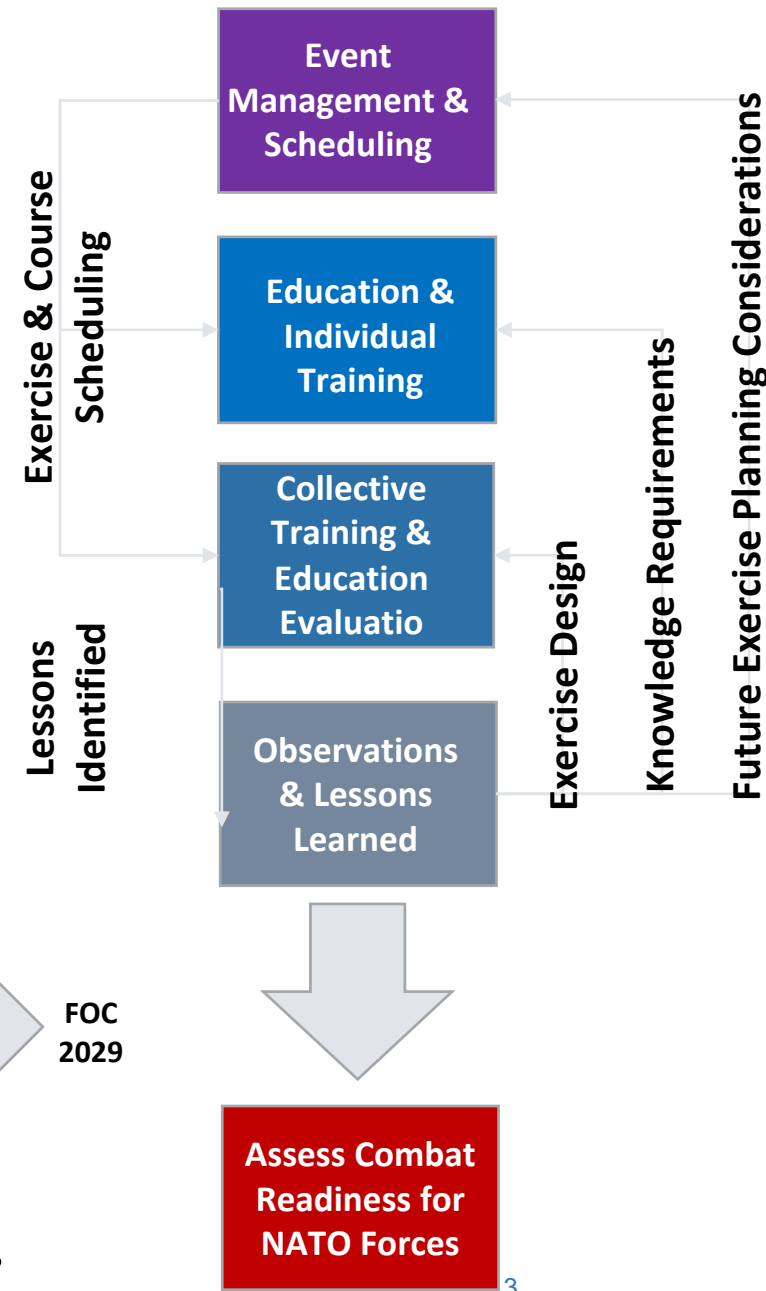

Agenda

- Improving learning technologies, preparing to learn while we fight, update on NATO's Joint Advanced Distributed Learning (JADL) tool
- Modelling and simulation programmes, update on NATO's Next Generation of Modelling and Simulation (NexGen M&S) programme
- Advancements in decision making aids, update on NATO's Political-Military Assisted Decision Making (PM-ADM) programme

Education Training Exercise Evaluation Functional Service

The current fractured ETEE IT ecosystem is ineffective at supporting force development because of isolated training data/tools, missing evaluation tools, redundant lines of effort, labor intensive data entries, and poor enterprise transparency/interoperability. An integrated system architecture spanning all NATO networks will enhance synergy and transparency between all training elements by incorporating lessons learned into all improvement efforts, providing event management tools for enterprise coordination, centralizing data for automatic information sharing, and providing evaluation tools to assess NATO mission readiness.
