

Surface Fleet Disaggregation; Sense, Decide and Effect

Andy Mitchell

Deputy Director – Navy Capability Sponsor

Combined Naval Event – 22nd May 2024

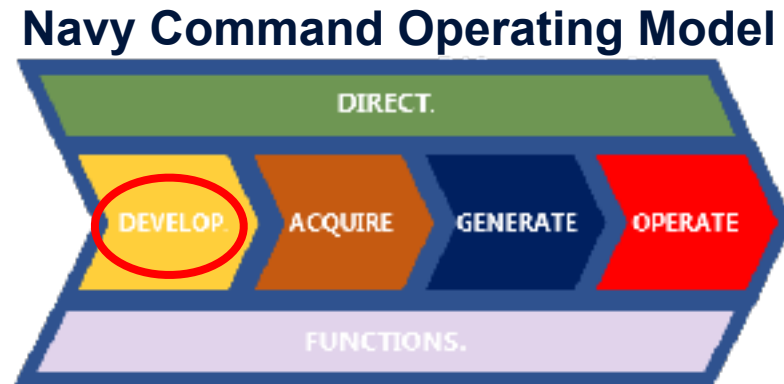

What the future Security environment means to the maritime domain

- State level competition
- Technology proliferation
- Affordability
- Climate Change
- Demographic change

Navy Develop's Purpose

Collaborate with partners to design the right Navy to meet defence and naval policies and strategies, and launch the right change projects to deliver that Design.

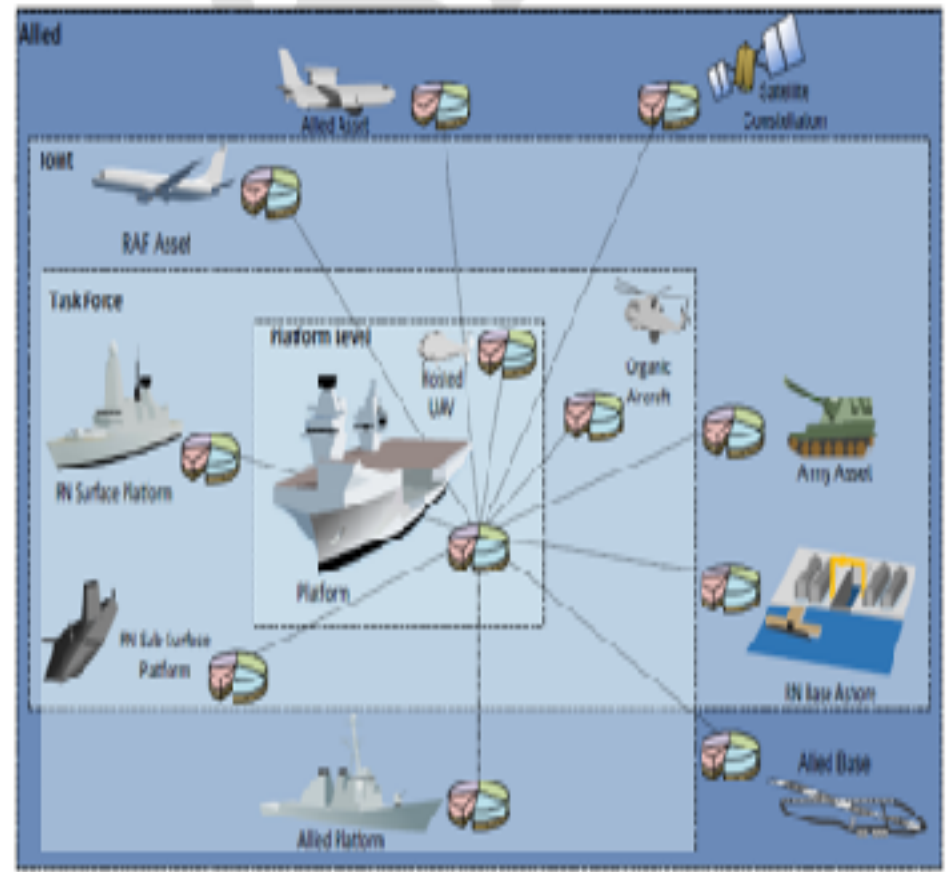

MarOpC – The implications of becoming a protean Navy, and taking a systems of systems approach – disaggregation of sense / decide / effect, and the requirement for StrikeNet

Move away from Directional Command

Self-healing integrated network of hosts each with decide abilities

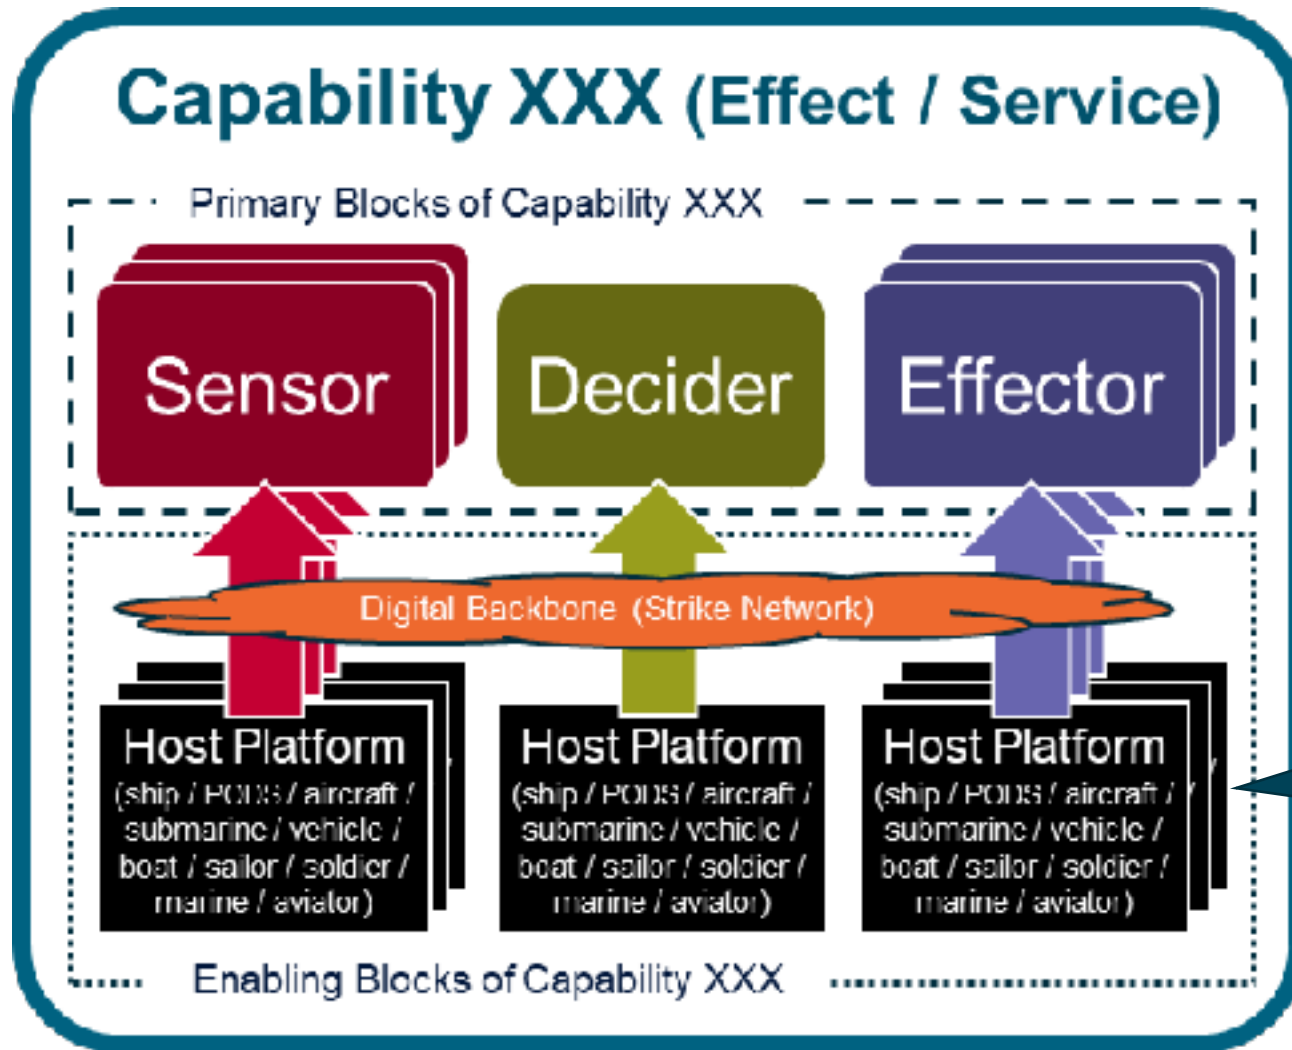

Standardising how we describe Capabilities - the Capability Model

A capability model that will enable us to standardise the description of 90%+ of the Defence's capabilities.

It's a model though, so won't be perfect or able to fully describe all we do.

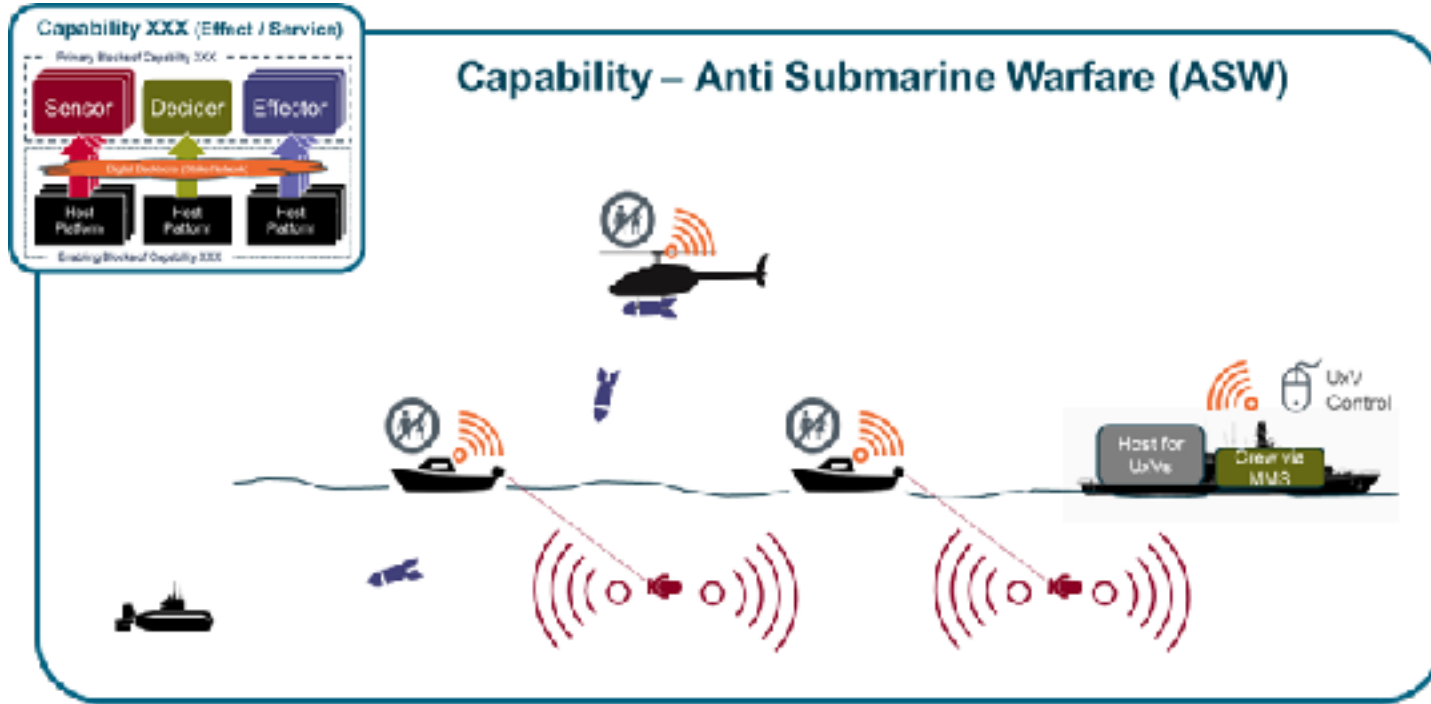

The capability may be fully hosted on one platform, or have its blocks spread across multiple platforms

Navy Systems of Systems Approach

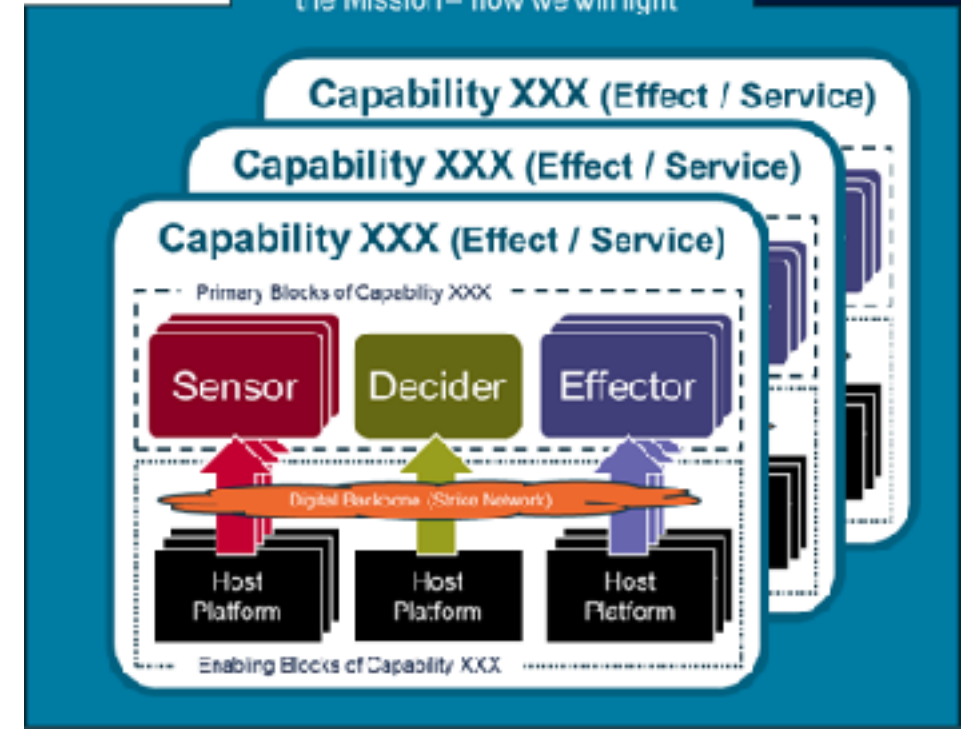

Using SOSA to design and procure the future Navy, based around the capabilities we need;

- Surface Strike, Air Defence, Anti Submarine Warfare, Indirect Fires, Logistics Resupply, Theatre Entry, Mine Warfare, Cyber Offense, Land Strike, etc

Military Mission AAA
 (Objective 123, Threat: 234, Geographic Location 345, Allies 456, Season 567, Political Climate 678, etc)

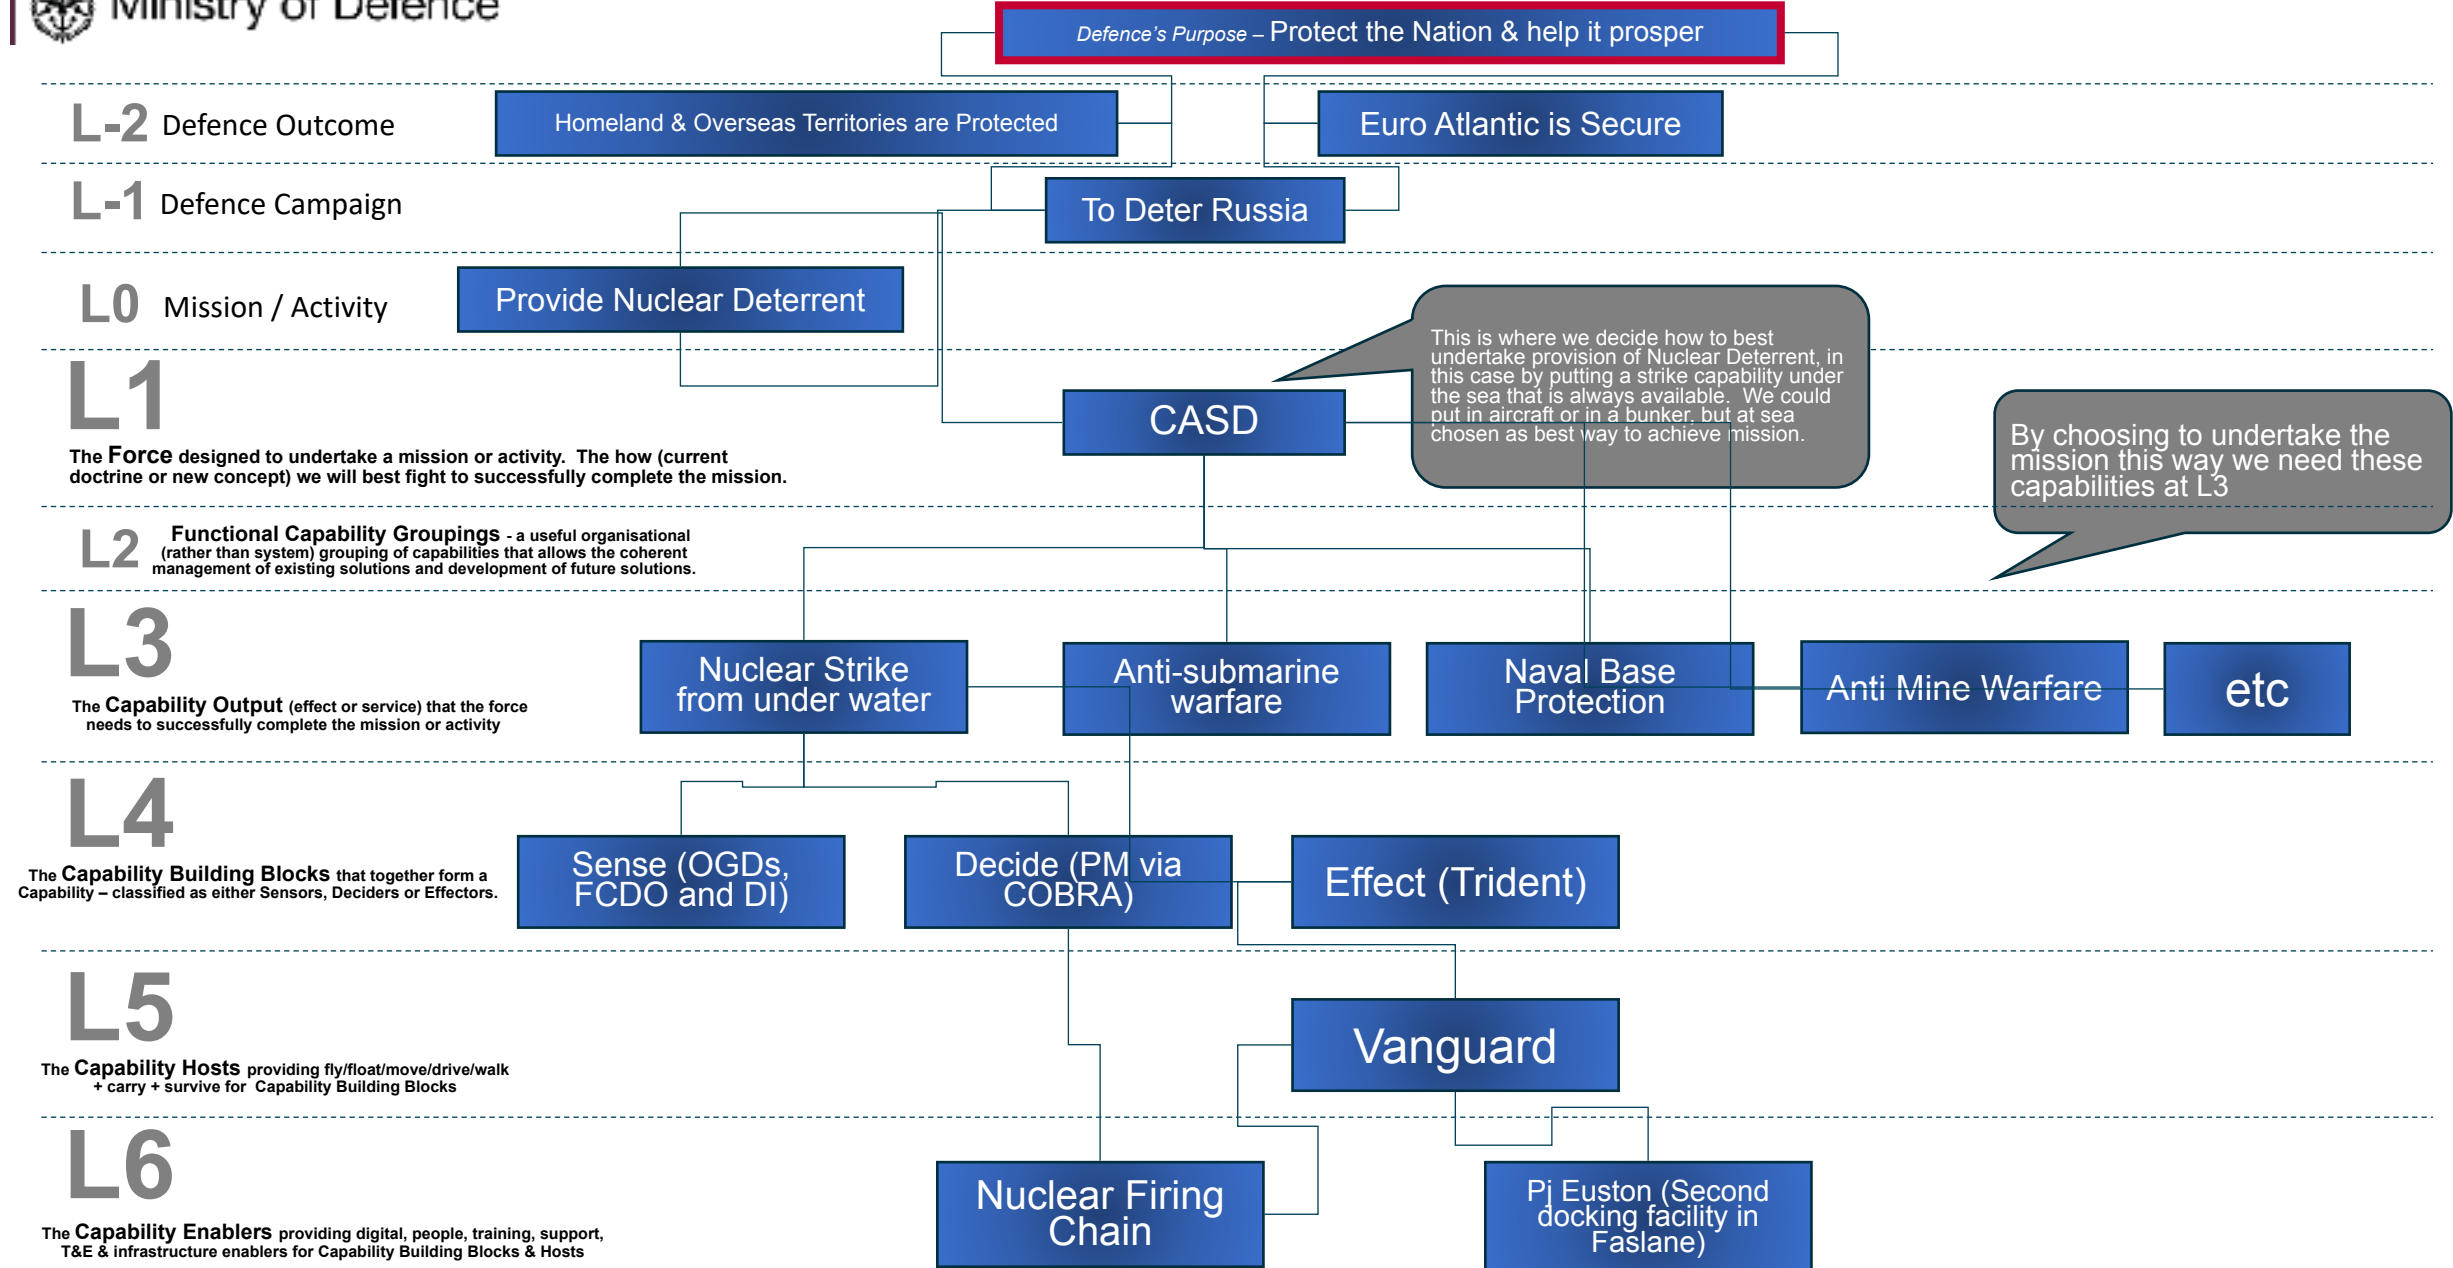

The Force to successfully undertake the Mission – how we will fight

We're changing from platform primacy to capability primacy

The Missions or Activities the Campaign requires to be undertaken

Mission / Activity 1 Mission / Activity 2 Mission / Activity 3 Mission / Activity 4 Mission / Activity 5 Mission / Activity 6 Mission / Activity 7 Mission / Activity 8 Mission / Activity 9

WHY
(from a Capability perspective)

L1

The Force designed to undertake a mission or activity. The how (current doctrine or new concept) we will best fight to successfully complete the mission.

Force 1 (e.g. Task Element) Force 2 (e.g. Task Force) Force 3 (e.g. Task Group) Force 4 (e.g. Task Group) Force 5 (e.g. Task Force) Force 6 (e.g. Task Group) Force 7 (e.g. Task Group)

L2

Functional Capability Groupings - a useful organisational (rather than system) grouping of capabilities that allows the coherent management of existing solutions and development of future solutions.

Functional Capability Group 1 (e.g. Above Water Warfare) Functional Capability Group 2 (e.g. Under Water Warfare) Functional Capability Group 3 (e.g. Littoral Warfare) Functional Capability Group 4 (e.g. Logistics)

HOW
(from a Capability perspective)

L3

The Capability Output (effect or service) that the force needs to successfully complete the mission or activity

Capability (Effect / Service) 2 (e.g. Maritime Strike) Capability (Effect / Service) 3 (e.g. Air Defence) Capability (Effect / Service) 1 (e.g. Land Strike) Capability (Effect / Service) 4 (e.g. Anti Submarine Warfare) Capability (Effect / Service) 5 (e.g. Mine Warfare) Capability (Effect / Service) 6 (e.g. Theatre Entry) Capability (Effect / Service) 6 (e.g. Ground Combat) Capability (Effect / Service) 6 (e.g. Land Strike) Capability (Effect / Service) 6 (e.g. Resupply) Capability (Effect / Service) 6 (e.g. Disaster Relief)

Using a systems approach like this will enable us to understand the relative value of different change projects to Defence

To bring a new capability into service, avoiding the valley of death, think Capability Readiness Level (CRL)!

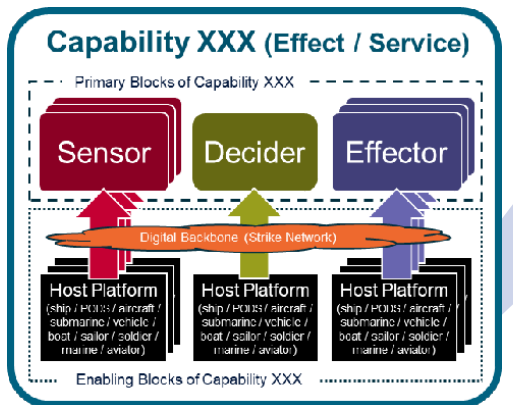

1. Don't just focus on the Technology (or Equipment) Readiness Level (TRL). This is almost never the lowest of the capability element readiness levels.

Example Capability Element Readiness Levels for Capability XXX

2. The overall capability readiness level (CRL) is the same as the LOWEST of the capability element readiness levels.

3. To bring a capability into service you must focus on raising the level of all the capability elements!
