We at Liwa Dates are committed to achieving excellence and innovation and follow the needs of our customers with utmost effort. Our goal is to introduce Dates in many unseen way by improving the quality of dates and dedication in producing creative product that would contribute to our consumers' value-added health quality of their lives.

As United Arab Emirates is known as one of the largest producers of dates in the world, I asked myself: "What can we do with all these dates?" Then I realized after my long experience in date farming and industry, I believe we can do everything in two components, namely the dates and creativity...and results are being achieved.
