Truly Off Road

The Hitch Campers purpose designed chassis is designed to handle any conditions the trailer may encounter, keep weight low and look fantastic.

The design incorporates a laser cut integrated drawbar and is sealed and then Hot Dipped Galvanised to give it a strong durable protective coating.

With independent trailing arm suspension (air bag available), fully articulating off road hitches and brand new mud-terrain tyres, it is fully prepared to follow the tow vehicle wherever your journey takes you.

Monocoque & Composite Construction

A key feature of the CANNING is its incredibly low tare weight, only 840kg*, and this is achieved by using monocoque construction techniques and using composite materials. The body is fully chemically bonded to each component and bonded to the chassis to create one lightweight structure.

We further expand on this by using composite materials in the joinery and they are bonded to the camper as well to further increase strength which also means that all Hitch Campers are 100% timberless construction.

All our trailers are fully 3D modelled and engineered prior to production stages.

Internal Living Area

The main living area has been designed to allow for plenty of ventilation, but also feel open. With a full-size queen bed, 2 double overhead cupboards, individual reading lamps, front window, ventilation hatch with in-built fan, it is truly a great place to be for an extended trip or weekend get away.

With our composite body construction, the insulation properties are second to none which will keep you nice and warm in winter but also cool in summer.

Kitchen

No camp is complete with out a well thought out kitchen and the CANNING is no different. We have a functional rear mounted kitchen, with instant shelter via the rear door. The CANNING has a permanently mounted stove, fixed sink with running water (including hot with optional adventure pack) and a L style layout with plenty of over head storage.
