FAQs

How does an adjustable bed work in a Caravan/Boat? Are they like the in-home beds?

They work in the same way, only that you are travelling around the country in your caravan!

How heavy are the adjustable caravan beds in total / per side? 39.5kg per side- totaling 79kgs overall. Using Steel & Aluminum Frame Design

Where are the motors within the Caravan Adjustable Bed?

On the underside of the base- which is only 10cm high.
The motors are not built into the mattress, they are free standing units.

How will the adjustable bed be installed when I have a bolster?

The bolster can be removed and the bed installed without the bolster in most cases.
We can look at retaining the bolster but in many cases this is unnecessary.

How much power/watts do I need to run the adjustable caravan bed?

We recommend using nothing less than a 600W Inverter. Our Directors use a Powertech 600W 12VDC to 240VAC Modified Sinewave Inverter on their caravan. If you are unsure; Inverters take the 12V DC input from your battery and change it to a 230V AC output, allowing you to run an adjustable bed when away from power.

How much AMP will the adjustable bed draw when in use?

Massage motors 1.6amp draw at full operation on both beds- 0.8 each side
Both moving motors moving at the same time on one side of the bed.
Max draw 6.2amps - 12.4amps both beds. All moving and max massage together 14amps

How will I hold the weight of the adjustable bed if I have under-bed storage?

You will need to upgrade your gas struts on the frame if you wish to have the lifting bed stay elevated while using your storage area. Better Living does not supply gas struts, this is your responsibility.

What if my measurements are different to the standard size of Better Living's Adjustable Caravan Bed?
