

Ask Harry, report it, job done!

Ask Harry is a voice-based AI assistant that enhances business efficiency and engagement. It provides intelligent responses and valuable suggestions to complex tasks, improving employee productivity and work quality.

With Ask Harry AI, in less than a minute, you can:

- send hazard reports
- report defects
- request critical information
- call on your own Harry number or two-way radio

One conversation, done.

Built for business voice-based AI technology works in noisy, difficult industrial and corporate environments, hearing and understanding industry jargon to deliver exceptional results, while integrating with your current workflow and technology, removing the need for complicated training or coding.

Our AI voice technology understands industry jargon and works well in noisy environments. It integrates quickly with your current technology and workflow, and there's no need for complex training or integration.
