

Get the big picture

See your business from a new perspective, de-risk and enhance productivity with Find Harry Location Services. Harry will help you streamline processes, prevent workplace incidents and remove bottlenecks before they become a problem.

Optimise business performance

Find Harry gives you a birds-eye view of your operation, helping you to pinpoint the location of equipment, inventory and personnel. With our user-friendly, visual dashboard, you can instantly:

- Make informed decisions on the fly with reliable data instead of second-hand information.
- Locate your people and deploy your teams more effectively.
- Reduce downtime and optimise production.

Enhance workplace safety

Know where your personnel and teams are at a moment's notice, improve safety processes and decrease the likelihood of an incident.

- Monitor personnel in high-risk environments and instantly react to an incident such as a collision or fall.
- Alert personnel to take action when near a potential hazard.
- Analyse trends to help identify, assess and control future hazards.

Rapid, flexible and scalable

From small warehouses to centralised, multi-site solutions, we can deploy our technology rapidly with minimal disruption. As your needs grow, we can quickly scale up to accommodate additional sites, an expanded fleet or a growing workforce.

Positive returns

Find Harry gives you the 'big-picture', identifying ways to remove bottlenecks, optimise workflows and cut overheads. New efficiencies gained can quickly deliver a positive ROI.

Tailored industry solutions

Each business has unique operational needs, and our range of location-based services is customised to fit your most challenging business demands. Our systems are scalable to match your growth, yet with minimal disruption and maximum cost-effectiveness.

Construction

Harry's fixed asset tags ensure you always know the location of tools, mobile plant and equipment. In the case of wearables, Harry can provide proximity danger alerts and locate personnel in times of emergency.

Warehousing

Trace the movement of forklifts and cherry pickers in real-time. Track the arrival of goods, optimise routes, reduce overheads and ensure your workforce stays safer.

Mining and heavy equipment

Unlock opportunities to optimise load and haul operations with real-time location tracking. In the same way as construction, provide proximity danger alerts and locate personnel in times of emergency.

Entertainment

In the entertainment industry every moment counts. Track the movement of goods and equipment in real-time. Location tracking helps ensure that your equipment is where it should be, right before shooting starts.

Healthcare

Using our easy to navigate dashboard, effectively manage equipment location and availability. Analyse time spent with patients or aged care residents, across single or multiple facilities, to help you improve efficiency and staff availability.

Security

Locate your team at a moment's notice, ensure compliance during daily patrols, respond rapidly to incidents or emergencies.

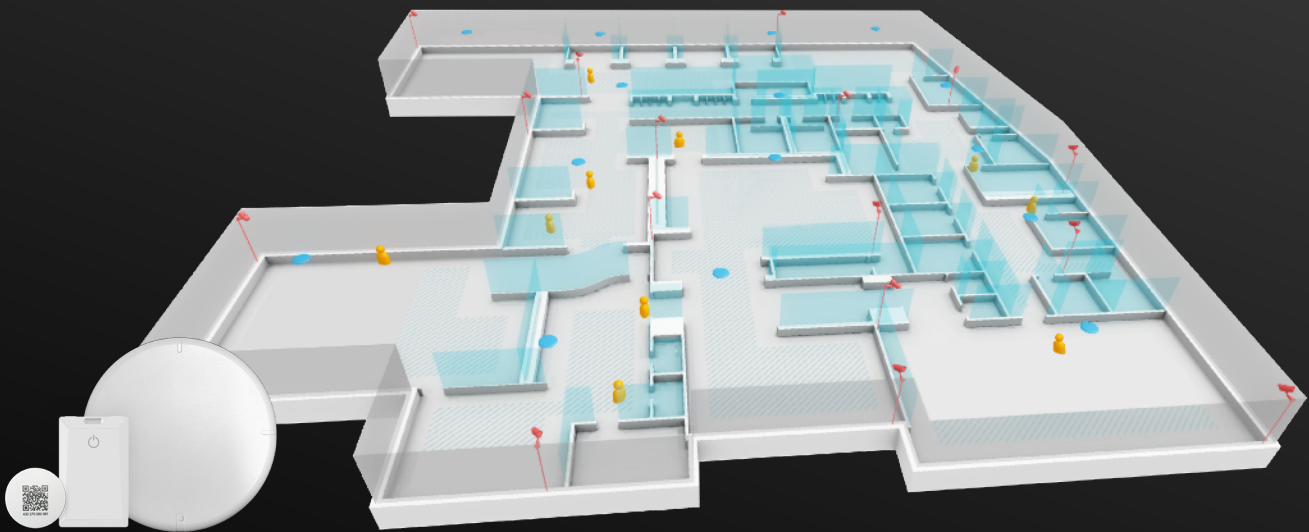

Innovate with our team

Our team has delivered innovative tracking solutions for over a decade. We were the first to squeeze battery-powered Bluetooth technology inside a credit card, and we constantly seek new ways to innovate to help provide solutions for you.

Smart and robust technology

Find Harry uses hardware and software based on Bluetooth technology to create a big-picture view of operation. Visualise all your data through maps, dashboards, or heatmaps.

Find Harry hardware

Find Harry uses Bluetooth transmitters (tags) working with Bluetooth receivers (locators) to find the exact position of assets and people.

Find Harry software

Find Harry maps locations onto a floorplan. Movement in and out of a zone can send alerts, messages or connect to your system via an API.

Ask Harry

Ask Harry is our voice-powered intelligent assistant, which integrates seamlessly with our Find Harry technology. Ask us for more information on how this works.

Request a demo

We produce answers to the challenges faced by businesses globally. Reach out to one of our Contact Harald representatives today, we look forward to hearing from you.

harry@contactharald.com

