There's nothing like meeting customers face-to-face

For the past 25 years, the east coast edition of Techno Security & Digital Forensics Conference has ushered in more innovations, conversations, and deals than any other event.

Back to the Future....

Sometimes you need to go back to move forward. This year we are bringing Techno West back to where it began...sunny San Diego! Not only are we heading back to the original city of Techno West, we are also rolling back the sponsorship pricing to match the 2019 package pricing.... plus we added in some extras!

We are committed to growing this event and delivering the same valuable (& fun) experience you expect from the Techno brand.

Techno is where you can meaningfully connect with motivated buyers and industry experts in a few short days. The event attracts new buyers every year – and you'll walk away with new connections, fresh insights, and lucrative business deals.

You'll explore deeper connections and showcase your innovations to an intelligent group of prospective buyers.

Get ready to:

- Expand Your Network & Fill Your Pipeline: Meet new prospects and potential partners eager for groundbreaking solutions.
- Showcase Your Innovations: Demonstrate your cutting-edge technologies and services to an audience seeking the latest advancements.
- Engage with Industry Leaders: Collaborate with peers who are shaping the future of cybersecurity, digital forensics, and eDiscovery.
- Discover Fresh Insights: Connect with professionals looking for the newest tools, training, and strategies to tackle today's challenges.
- Capitalize on Impeccable Timing: These smart attendees are absorbing the insights from the powerful conference program and want to implement what they've learned. Shouldn't you be there to meet them?

As a member of a new Police Department, this conference provided me with training and networking with industry professionals, showcased the digital forensics tools and equipment available, and connected me with vendors and experts in my field. The networking and training helped guide me in the right direction to build our digital forensics department procedures and equipment and now keeps me up to date with industry trends.

Another fantastic conference has come to an end. A huge thanks to the organizers, Techno Security & Digital Forensics Conference, for bringing together so many digital forensics and computer security professionals. We're looking forward to the next conference season with great excitement!

Yulia Samoteykina
Head of Marketing - Atola Technology

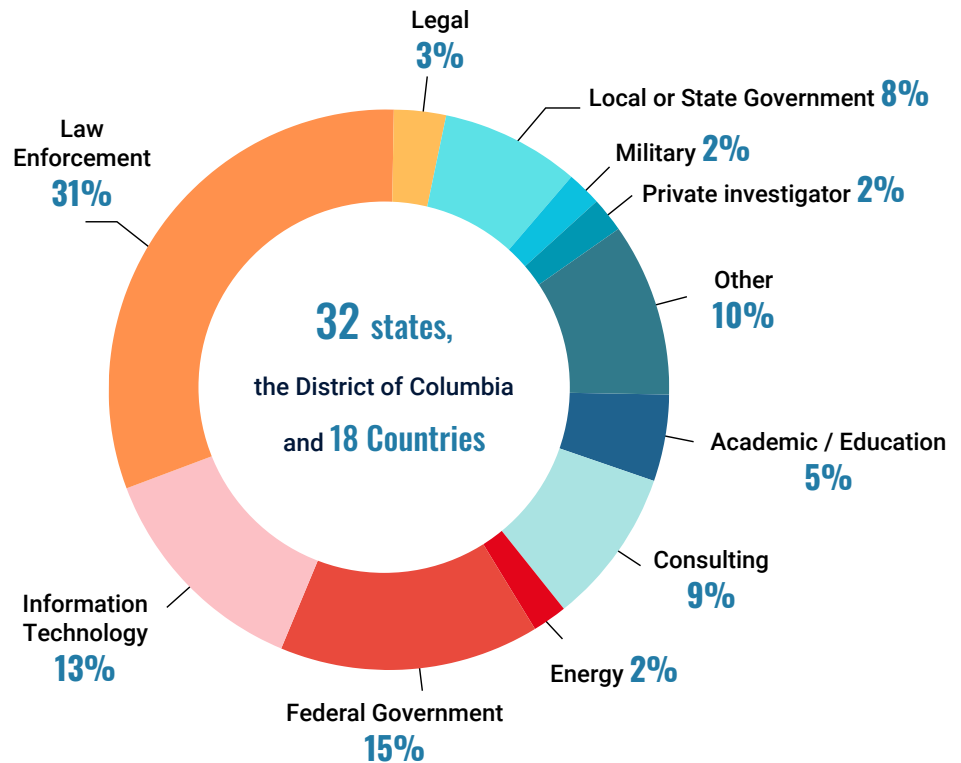

The unique conference blends together the government and private sectors to raise international awareness of developments, teaching, training, responsibilities, and ethics in the cybersecurity, eDiscovery and digital forensics industries.

Attendees expect high-quality content and we deliver. What does that mean for you? You get highly qualified and engaged buyers looking to stay ahead of the curve.

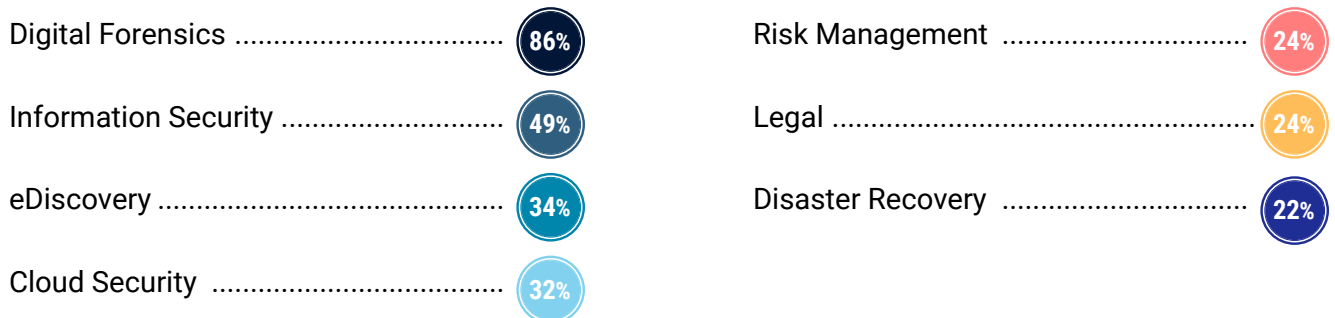

The 2025 program will again feature vendor-neutral, hands-on, relevant, and current seminars offering an opportunity for attendees to earn CPE credits.

This gives them a powerful incentive to attend and find your solutions.
