

IFS ENTERPRISE OPERATIONAL INTELLIGENCE™

IFS ENTERPRISE OPERATIONAL INTELLIGENCE (IFS EOI™)

- Offers customers a number of ways to deliver visual insight, to understand enterprise performance and enable better decision-making.
- Enables a full 360 degree, enterprise-wide, top down perspective of processes and performance aligned with the business strategy.
- Connects your strategy to its operational implementation (and back again)
- Uniquely combines business intelligence (BI), operational intelligence (OI), intelligent business operations (IBO) and intelligent business process management suites (iBPMS).
- Supports multi-organization, multi-company and multi-system landscapes.

IFS EOI delivers visual insight in real time, orchestrating business processes that align with company strategy to better understand business performance and enable improved decision making. As a result, customer Qinzhou Electric Power has already realized further operational efficiencies and cost savings.

WHAT'S THE BENEFIT?

MAP YOUR ENTERPRISE

Graphically visualize your value chain and define your business priorities in IFS EOI. This top-down approach ensures that performance is managed in the context of the key business strategic objectives & processes, preventing any surprises in performance or implementations.

- Accelerates the realization of your business objectives—with a top-down reinforcement of an organization's strategy.
- Provides a single version of the truth across multiple sources to help you map, monitor, manage your enterprise.

MONITOR PERFORMANCE

IFS EOI monitors the performance of your business against your business goals, providing role-based cockpits to monitor real-time performance.

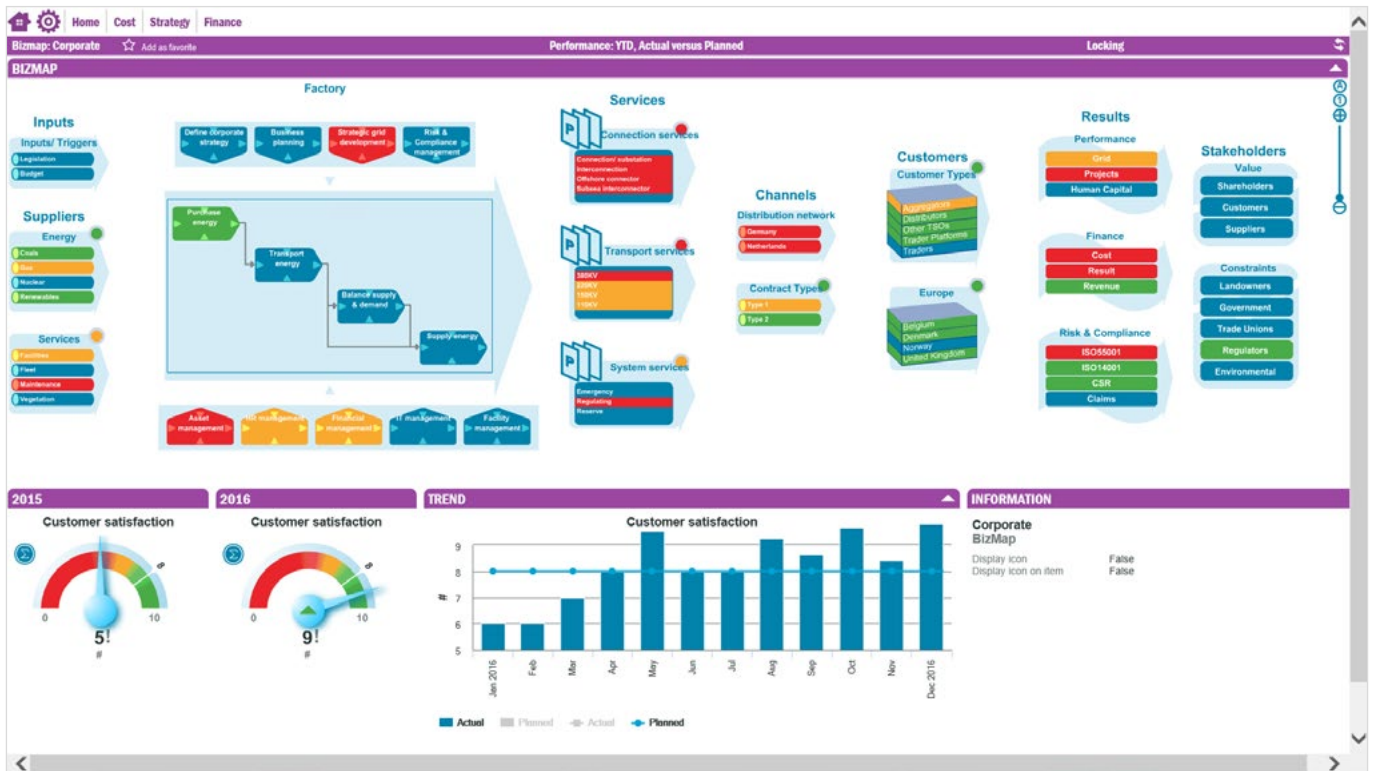

- Shortens time to value—faster than traditional bottom-up BI solutions. Ultimately, IFS EOI enables businesses to make better decisions, faster by assessing real-time business performance in the context of how it affects key business processes and goals.
- Provides insight into the full end-to-end enterprise performance—offers a unique value proposition to support C-level decision-makers.
- Optimizes processes efficiency—rather than point divisions, organizations or functions.

MANAGE YOUR BUSINESS

IFS EOI is about enterprise management and enterprise intelligence, but it is the ability to execute decisions supported by real-time 'what-if' analysis that drives your business and makes the difference.

- Enables businesses to increase their agility by supporting business process change in days not months.
- Increases organizational effectiveness.
- Improves the flexibility and predictability of your business with a full insight into the end-to-end enterprise.
- Enables more effective management action—increased quality, speed and targeting.

IFS Enterprise Operational Intelligence starts with the top-level business strategy and goals, incrementally connecting real-time data to monitor and manage the end-2-end processes.
