

Connected field service management platform

From Drainage to Installations, we're transforming utilities from high cost, low trust and disjointed environments to one where information flows seamlessly from order maker right down to the final engineer.

A company on Okappy with 100 employees/subcontractors and 100 jobs a week worth £500 typically see:

COSTS

↓ £615,000

REVENUE

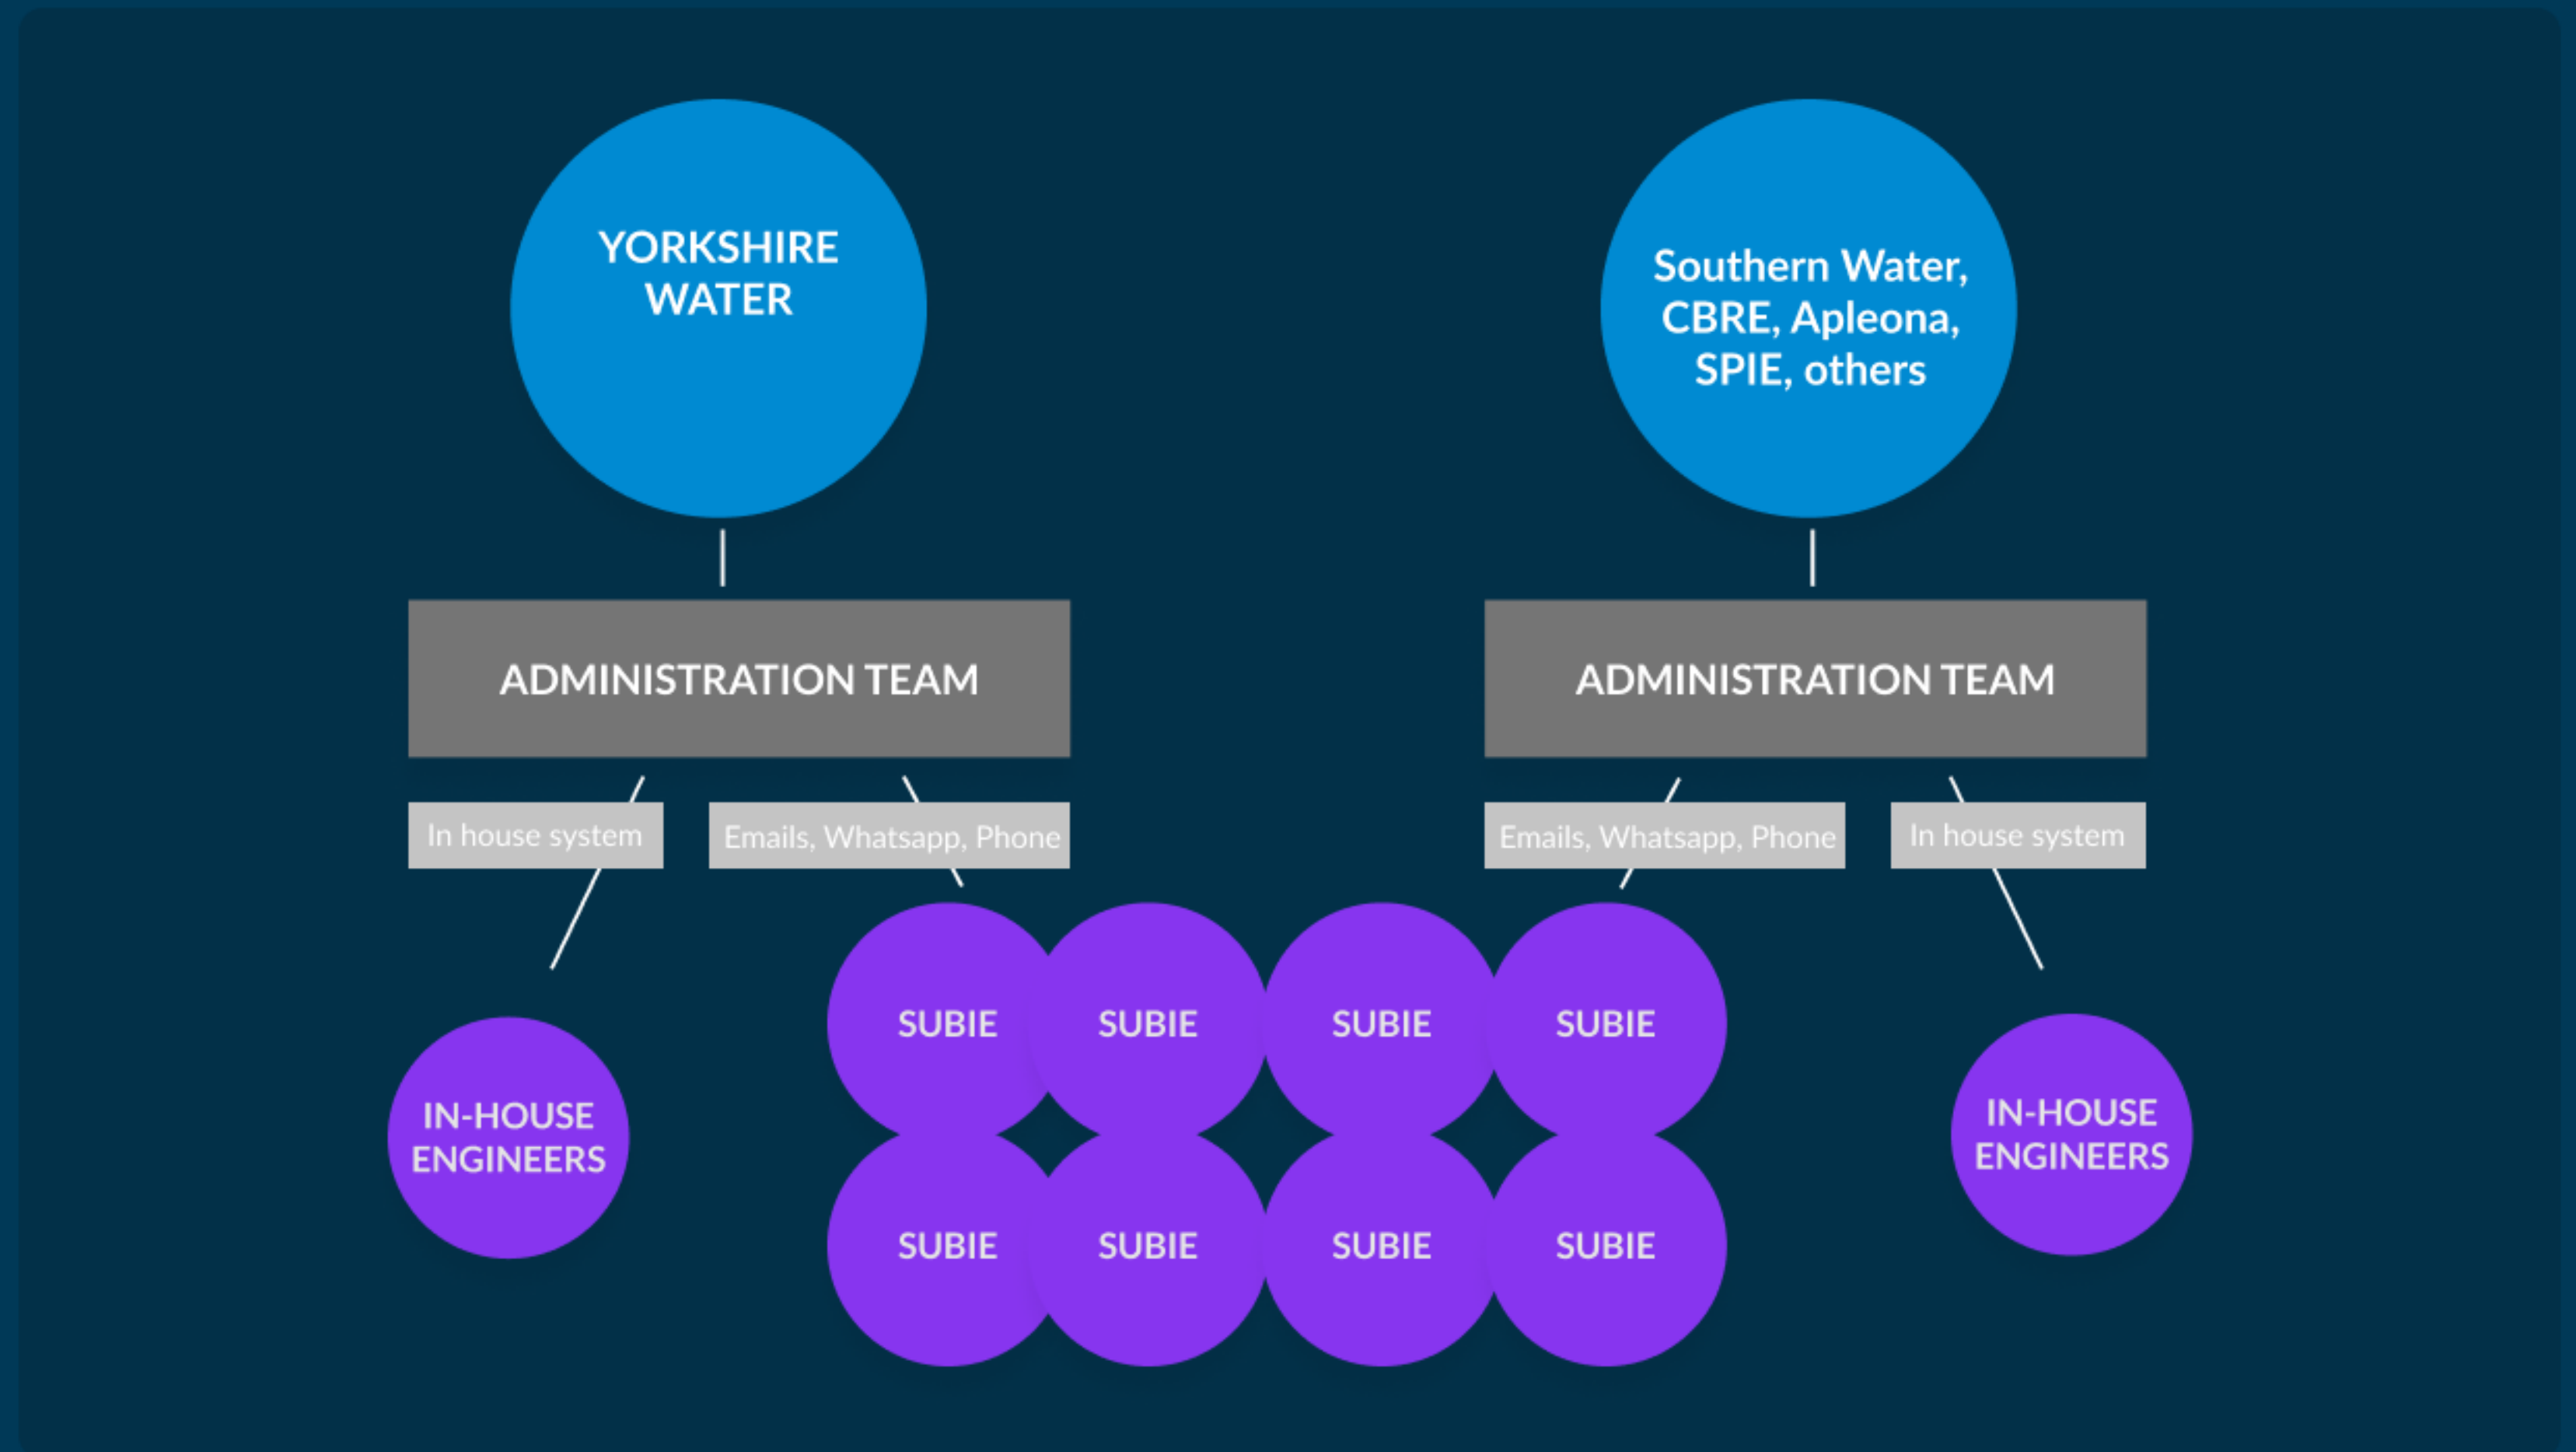

↑ £2,000,000

The problem

Field service management apps, emails and messaging don't work for the new economy

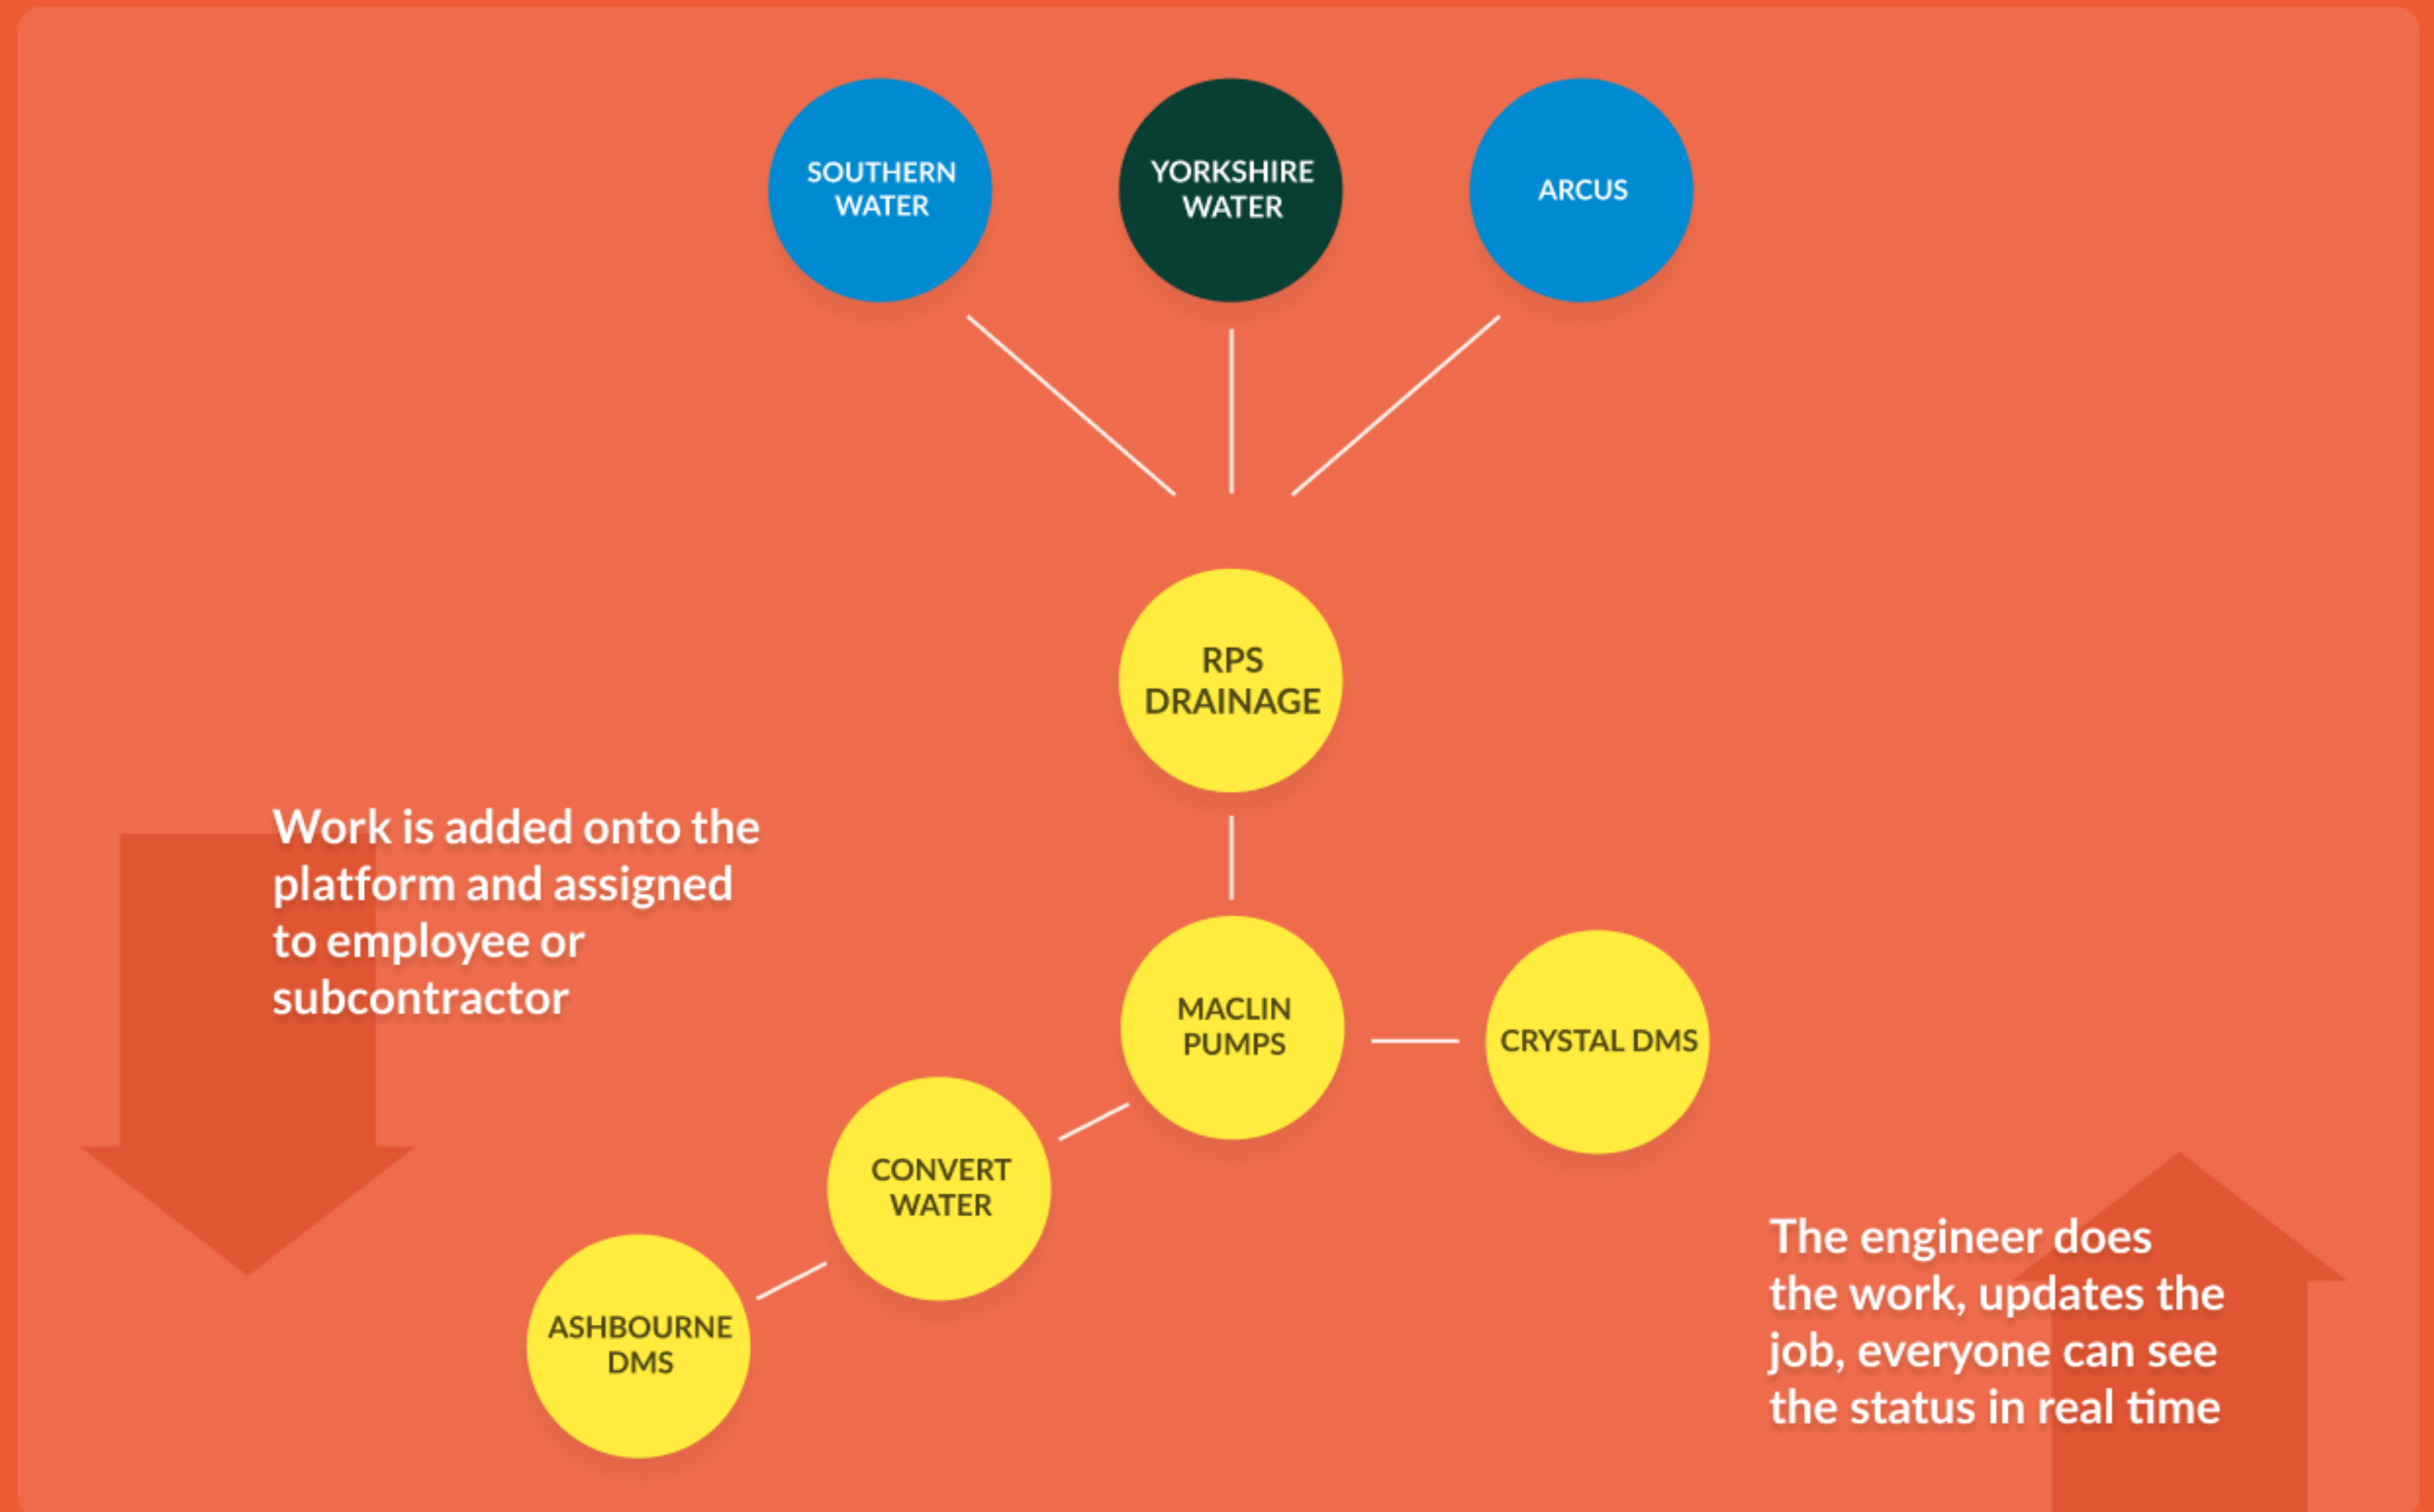

High cost,
Disjointed, Mistakes.
Duplication, Inefficient.

The solution

Connected field service management platform

Transparent
High trust, Low cost.
Information flows seamlessly between ALL stakeholders

The engineer does the work, updates the job, everyone can see the status in real time

Much more than field service management

Okappy is a simple, unified and connected platform

Our USP

The only solution that works both within your organisation and with your wider team

- ✓ Platform rather than individual company software
- ✓ Connected rather than siloed
- ✓ Focused on field service management rather than social media or messaging
- ✓ Simple, intuitive and easy-to-use

Why we are different • We believe we are the only field service management solution that works both internally and externally.

Field service management systems can work well within your organisation. But they tend to fall down when other companies are involved in the work with information having to be duplicated and copied between yours and your partners systems. Companies try and mitigate this using a patchwork of tools such as Slack, WhatsApp and Email. However information quickly become fragmented across lots of different apps.

Water Utility Benefits

- ✔ With 100,000's connections on the platform, a lot of your suppliers/potential suppliers may already be on Okappy
- ✔ Suppliers can manage Utility customer jobs as well as their own, making it easier to keep them engaged whilst reducing churn
- ✔ Mitigate skills shortages by finding new suppliers on Okappy
- ✔ Holistic approach to efficiency improvements across the whole supply chain
- ✔ Connected approach reduces administrative and reporting burden on suppliers
- ✔ Standardised software can lead to savings for you and your suppliers
- ✔ Okappy can be hooked into existing Utility systems
