

Institute of Water Annual Conference

Join us for a transformative experience at our Annual Conference 2024 on 10-11 September, where we delve into the theme of “Challenging Waters, United Purpose.”

This year's conference promises to be an enlightening and collaborative experience, addressing the diverse challenges and opportunities facing the UK water sector.

Gain insights from speakers as they explore the multifaceted nature of the UK water sector and understand how we collaborate to deliver on our shared social purpose.

Contribute to the dialogue, helping us to explore current case studies and strategies for fostering more unity and connecting with the broader water sector supply chain, regulators, and water companies, with this platform for cross-sector dialogue.

Participate in dedicated networking sessions and collaborative group work, fostering critical thinking for a more unified and resilient sector.

Seize the opportunity to be part of sessions focused on turning challenges into opportunities, shaping a united force for a sustainable and resilient future.

Conference tickets have been held at the same price for a third year, so don't hesitate to secure your place now and be part of the discussion!
