Fire safety training

Approximately 40% of businesses never fully recover from the damage caused by a fire. Fire safety awareness is in everyone's interest to prevent fires from starting and to mitigate its effects should prevention measures fail.

We offer fire safety training courses that comply with all current regulations and the requirements of the National Occupational Standards, ensuring delegates keep their fire safety skills and knowledge up to date. We place particular emphasis on practical skills including how to use a fire extinguisher – and feedback from recent delegates reinforces this - “Full use of all extinguishers for the practical section, a very informative video presentation, and handouts to take away. Very impressed at the services they provide, especially for the very reasonable cost.”

Knowledge and practical expertise

We provide a range of courses suitable for everyone, to provide a greater appreciation of fire prevention in the workplace. Delegates will receive expert tuition on how to reduce the risk of fires and what they need to do if a fire were to occur, ensuring they act safely and do not put themselves in danger.

Training includes both theoretical and practical sessions and all our fire safety training courses give delegates hands-on experience using a live fire extinguisher in a safe and controlled environment.

Our instructors are highly experienced professional rescue operatives, who are trained to the National Occupation Standard of fire fighting in emergency situations, which enables us to offer their knowledge and practical expertise to every delegate. They will share their own experiences with candidates which gives the training an additional dimension and brings the learning to life.

Our Fire Warden half day training course covers the duties of a fire warden and selection and safe operation of portable fire extinguishers to combat a fire. Delegates will receive expert tuition on how to reduce the risk of fires and what they need to do if a fire were to occur, ensuring they act safely and do not put themselves in danger.
