How it works

Apply to our member network to see if your business is a match for this opportunity

You first need to be accepted into our exclusive member network:

Once accepted into the network we start with a kick off to define a concrete plan for the coming 12 to 18 months tailored to your needs. Once both parties are satisfied with the plan we get started and execute against it, bringing you into the industry as a member of the Smart Building Collective, learning from the smart building benchmark and the various organizations associated. Each partner is unique and requires different attention, your program will be custom made with common underlying themes. We will aim to 10X your investment by focusing on::

How - We certify spaces, buildings, portfolios, solutions, master system integrators, and consultancy firms against the SBC framework where best practices, gaps and opportunities are identified. Each of these entities informs the SBC Framework which makes up the world's first crowd sourced certification system. One common language informed by the collective community to support the industry move further faster. From a powerful base, the SBC community supports the industry by facilitating events, publications, sharing expertise, and matchmaking, whilst spreading the power of the SBC certifications further and for more. Once you are a member we will begin Solution Certification and onboard your team for access to SBC Online. Let's go!

Start with Solution Certification

Solution Certification is more than a badge: everything we have designed is for you to improve your product(s), services, placement, storytelling, knowledge, and innovation. Solution certification is not just a label, once we know what your solution and organization is capable of, we can better support you effectively meet the challenges you are up against. We can help you match to buildings, people, or complimentary solutions. Solution certification is built against the same methodology (SBC Framework) that the buildings are certified against, this way gaps and opportunities can be easily mapped and met.

Solution certification is not only about the technology, it is also about how your organization is placed to support your customers through your services, solutions, and value propositions.

Matchmaking opportunities it opens up:

Certification will result in a digital asset that can be shared with interested parties and opens opportunities to access matchmaking where appropriate.

10X your investment

By being accepted:

- Position your influence as a Smart Building leader in the industry with certification
- Validate your products and services against the SBC methodology
- Innovate based on insight and learnings from the certification process
- Match with opportunities/questions from real estate owners
- Present your products & services, with recognition of your innovations
- Contribute to articles, research studies, and publications and profile your leadership
- Share your expertise during our events and throughout the SBC ecosystem
- Participate in SBC Online and all of its resources
- Gain access to the SBC core team for business support (consultancy, workshops, speaking at your events, innovation)
- We provide a space and support your profile, products and services throughout the ecosystem and market
