If you have a disability The DPS are here to help you and to encourage you to overcome it

The society, which is a registered charity, was formed in 1968 to adapt cameras in order to make them much more easily usable by those with physical disabilities.

The society has developed a broad knowledge of various ways of how to make photography accessible. Often with a few simple modifications we can open up a whole new world of possibilities to those who would otherwise struggle to operate a camera.

We achieve this by free long term loan of equipment, or just by offering advice where needed. We can also help to adapt your own equipment.

The society is run by a team of dedicated volunteers, most of whom are disabled photographers themselves. They are dedicated to opening up the world of photography to the disabled by offering help to those who need it.

It does not matter if you were born with a disability or if you acquired one through accident or illness, the DPS can probably help in some way. Especially if you want to take up or continue with photography, or even progress to become a professional photographer.

We have all levels of skill and experience within our membership and most are willing to provide advice and support. Our Electronic Portfolio Group (EPG) can be particularly helpful as it offers constructive advice to all who take part.

We offer our own very highly regarded distinctions, for those who can achieve the standards needed for their award. Many of our members proudly display letters after their names.

Some need more assistance than others, some require lots. We do not expect our members to put up with one size fits all solutions. We can help to tailor a solution to your needs and not just those of others. We can provide you with the equipment on free loan, as long as you remain a member.

One of our members said "The DPS has helped to give me my life back again". You can start to get your life back today by joining us, or you can help by donating some unused equipment or funds to help somebody else to get their life back.

"There is only you and your camera. The limitations in your photography are in yourself, for what we see is what we are." - Ernst Hass

We urgently need your unwanted Photography equipment and books

If you have any working photography equipment or books that you no longer need and you would like to donate them to help our members then please contact our chairman for details of how you can do this.

To discuss corporate sponsorship of the society, in goods, discount offers to our membership or funds, again please contact our chairman for details.

Cash donations may be made by BACs, bank transfer, cheque or via our website. Again please contact our chairman for full details.
