IBC E-ZONE

The IBC E-Zone (Exhibitor Zone) was launched on 2 April. The E-Zone is your one stop shop for planning your stands at IBC. This week we launched the final sections including exhibitor registrations, customer codes and lead capture orders. Log in via <https://reg.ibc.org/e-zone>.

If you haven't logged in yet, please log in to both the E-Zone and RAI Webshop as soon as possible. If you need to set a set or change your password, please click <https://reg.ibc.org/e-zone/password/reset> and follow the instructions.

Shortly we will launch the Users function for you to add colleagues to view the E-Zone. If you need to share information with stand builders or 3rd parties, please share the Stand Builder webpages here - <https://show.ibc.org/stand-builder-information>

This year we are working with Map Your Show to provide digital upgrades, profile management, task management as well as the show floorplan (coming soon). To access these services, you will need to access the E-Zone first - <https://reg.ibc.org/e-zone> – then navigate via the left-hand menu. You cannot access the Map Your Show services via any other links even if you are already an existing Map You Show account. Please contact support@ibc.org if you have any questions.

EXHIBITOR REGISTRATION – NOW LIVE!

Exhibitors can now register colleagues via the Exhibitor Registration tab in your E-Zone. Register your stands exhibitors, any delegates (paid for places) and any distributors you are working with this year. You can register individual passes or multiple passes via the bulk upload system. Once registered, each person can then manage their own profile, update their details and create and download their own visa invitation letters.

As a Primary Exhibitor Coordinator, you will also need to register yourself via the E-Zone if you are attending the show. Please note that you need to register first in the E-Zone and not via visitor pass registration. Once you've registered yourself, you can then switch between the E-Zone and your personal profile to complete your registration and apply for visa invitation letters, etc.

We will provide users guide and videos on customer codes, exhibitor registration and the full E-Zone from next week in the Help Centre.

PRIMARY EXHIBITION COORDINATORS

As the recipient of this Newsletter, you are listed as the Primary Exhibitor Coordinator (PEC) for your stand(s). You have received the log in details for the E-Zone as well as have access to set up your account in the RAI Webshop. If you are no longer the correct contact, please contact your IBC Account Manager ASAP with the correct details.

EXHIBITOR MARKETING

Maximise your presence at IBC2024

This year, we have made it even easier for you to promote your participation at the show, maximise the traffic to your stand and get the most out of IBC2024.

Within your E-Zone, you will find the link to the Marketing Toolkit (IBC Exhibitor Toolkit | IBC2024 Show 13-16 Sep 2024). Here, you can download IBC logos, online banners in different sizes, adverts and social cards. Once you have these, you can easily edit them so they contain your customer code and stand location. We have also put some instructions together to help you along the way! You're then good to share these with your network so get inviting!

In addition to all of these, you will also be receiving personalised social media graphics which contain your unique customer code, name and stand number. You will receive these via email next week so please do look out for them! If you have any questions on any of these, you can contact marketing@ibc.org.

Don't forget how important using your Personal Exhibitor Customer Code is. Your customer code is your exclusive invitation to your clients or prospects to visit you at IBC. Your clients will be able to use this code to register for IBC for free, even once the early bird registration has closed at the end of August. For every visitor who registers with your customer code, you will also receive their contact details as a lead, so you can follow up with a meeting onsite.
