“I saw an iridescent biosphere teeming with life. I didn't see the economy. But since our human-made systems treat everything, including the very life-support systems of our planet, as the wholly owned subsidiary of the global economy, - it's obvious from the vantage point of space that we're living a lie”.

Ron Garan - Astronaut

We need to be the people spending more time thinking more originally about how to adjust to food insecurity to step up and meet the impending manic moments.

The Fertile Zero

We learn nothing in prosperity; it is constraints that kindle the flames of creativity.

Discarding the map that brought us here.

We can rediscover that exhilarating feeling of learning—the sense of limitless, emerging, and energizing possibility again.

We must summon all our resolve, discard our certainties and assumptions, and elevate curiosity and adaptability as our core virtues.

We will be the first responders to any food shortages.
