

Grief doesn't end when Bereavement Leave does

WORKPLACE

— Bereavement —

Our Workplace Bereavement training will explore the importance of supporting bereaved colleagues in the workplace. You will gain an understanding of how grief impacts business in terms of performance, relationships with colleagues and absenteeism. We train advocates from your business in how to support staff dealing with bereavement.

Attendees will gain an understanding of the grieving process and explore the impact of bereavement in the workplace. We highlight coping strategies for supporting the bereaved from the first indication of bereavement and can provide longer-term support and bereavement counselling where necessary.

✓ CPD ACCREDITED

Our CPD accredited course is available anywhere in the UK. It can be delivered in person, or online. If you wish to train a large number of employees, please get in touch and we can discuss a bespoke package that works best for your company.

✓ BEREAVEMENT COUNSELLING

Workplace Bereavement has a team of professionally qualified, external, bereavement counsellors should one of your employees need further assistance. Please contact us for an introduction to one of our trusted counsellors.

✓ SUPPORT FOR EMPLOYEES

Studies highlight that 35% of employees felt they did not receive any bereavement guidance from their employers. Our training provides employers and employees with the necessary skills and confidence to support one another following a bereavement.

✓ DID YOU KNOW?

One of the biggest hidden costs in the UK is absenteeism – a staggering 7 billion pounds yearly. A bereaved employee is most likely to have an additional, unscheduled 30 days off beyond the initial bereavement leave. Support your employees by training a bereavement advocate with Workplace Bereavement.
