

SEQOHS

Safe Effective Quality Occupational Health Service

THE INDUSTRY STANDARD FOR OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH

Information for Occupational Health Providers

SEQOHS is recognised as the occupational health industry standard. It's used in both public and private sectors, by in-house and contracted occupational health services. SEQOHS accreditation provides independent assessment of providers using agreed standards of safety, effectiveness and quality.

This leaflet explains the benefits of SEQOHS accreditation, eligibility criteria and the registration pathway for providers.

What are the benefits of SEQOHS accreditation?

- Benchmarking to promote safe, effective and good quality services
- Assurance for your clients and potential clients that you have been independently assessed for the quality and value of your services
- Listing as an accredited provider at www.seqohs.org
- Promotion of the services that you offer at www.seqohs.org
- Use of the SEQOHS quality mark on your website and documentation
- Continuous improvement through support and advice from SEQOHS
- Opportunities to showcase your achievements and network with others at the annual SEQOHS Best Practice conference

Am I eligible to register for SEQOHS accreditation?
