Our clients:

We work across both the Public & Private Sectors, with lots of large, well-respected organisations.

“From first contact they have been professional & very helpful. Always very responsive to any questions/queries that we might have. As a company, we now have a trusted working relationship with Greys”

“When the new hires met one another for the first time I did overhear part of their conversation about their positive experiences with Greys and working with you; this told me that my experience of Greys is not unique”

“Excellent service, very professional, prompt and efficient, excellent quality CV's”

We work closely with clients to identify exactly what you need in terms of skills, personality, and qualifications to work within your OH department.
