The Silence Collection: Fusing Tradition with Modern Elegance

Grestec is thrilled to introduce The Silence Collection at this year's Clerkenwell Design Week, a new porcelain tile series that draws inspiration from the timeless allure and rich history of ceramics. This remarkable collection reinterprets the classic charm of cement tiles, adding a contemporary and modern flair that will captivate and stimulate creativity for any project.

Exquisite Craftsmanship and Innovative Design

Each piece in the Silence Collection is a testament to exquisite craftsmanship and innovative design. The collection features a captivating range of 200x200mm porcelain tiles, each meticulously crafted to add a unique and sophisticated touch to both indoor and outdoor spaces. With five solid colours, each available in three different decorative patterns in the same colourway, the design possibilities are endless. The tiles are finished with a smooth matt texture and are made from glazed porcelain, making them suitable for both indoor and outdoor wall installations.

The Silence Collection infuses elegance and tranquillity into any environment, whether it's a residential or commercial setting. These tiles are designed to enrich spaces with their timeless beauty and modern flair.

Thoughtfully Curated Colour Palette

The collections thoughtfully curated colour palette is a standout feature, offering calming sage greens, warm brick tones, classic black and white, and serene mid-blue. These colours are chosen to evoke a sense of peace and serenity, making them perfect for creating refined and peaceful spaces.

Environmental Consciousness

The Silence Collection also prioritises environmental consciousness, featuring an Environmental Product Declaration (EPD) and incorporating over 30% recycled materials.
