Quell Design Launches at Clerkenwell Design Week with a Bold New Product Range for Future-Ready Workspaces

London, UK — Quell Design, the latest venture from the team behind the acclaimed Soundbox Store, is delighted to announce its official launch at Clerkenwell Design Week. Built on long-standing partnerships with trusted brands — including Soundbox Store, 4orm4, Beite, Sunon and B-One — Quell Design brings together a carefully curated range of design-led solutions for today's evolving work environments.

What began with a focus on acoustic booths and controlled environments soon grew in response to client demand. As our experienced team supported more workplace tenders, it became clear there was a strong appetite for a wider product offer — one that balanced aesthetic sensibility with commercial functionality. Quell Design was born from this insight, offering a holistic collection to meet modern workplace needs.

The highlight of our launch isn't just one product — it's the unveiling of our entire new range, created in collaboration with forward-thinking partners who share our passion for design, performance, and wellbeing. From acoustic solutions to furniture systems and workspace essentials, every piece reflects our commitment to quality, flexibility and timeless design.

Among the standout launches is the Kabine Booth by Soundbox Store — a beautifully engineered acoustic booth meeting the highest ISO standards for acoustic performance.

Sleek, versatile and built to impress, it's just one example of the innovation at the heart of Quell Design.

Our Clerkenwell space is inspired by biophilic design principles, featuring natural textures and calming Ecrú and Organic tones of nature to create a restorative experience. We warmly invite our partners, clients and the design community to explore the range and celebrate this exciting new chapter with us.

Spaces are limited — advance booking is encouraged.
