Kabine Acoustic Booth Range

Quell Design Launches the Kabine Acoustic Booth Range – A Calming Cocoon of Comfort Promoting Well-Being, Focus and Productivity

Official Launch: 20th May 2025 | 09:30 AM | Quell Design Showroom, 102–108 Clerkenwell Rd, London EC1M 5SA

Quell Design is delighted to announce the official launch of the Kabine Acoustic Booth Range, a beautifully crafted solution designed to redefine the modern office by promoting well-being, focus and productivity. The launch event will take place on Tuesday, 20th May 2025 at 09:30 AM, at Quell Design's brand-new showroom in the heart of Clerkenwell.

102-108 Clerkenwell Rd, London EC1M 5SA

The Kabine Acoustic Booth Range has been thoughtfully developed to respond to the growing demand for flexible and restorative workplace spaces. As the way we work continues to evolve, Kabine offers professionals a calming cocoon of comfort – a dedicated retreat from open-plan distractions and visual noise. It provides sound-insulated privacy in a beautifully designed setting that complements any workspace aesthetic.

Positioned as a versatile communication hub and focus zone, the Kabine range caters to a wide variety of uses – from quiet solo work and confidential calls to quick huddles and video meetings. Easily installed and ready when needed, it brings a heightened sense of calm and clarity to busy office environments, ultimately promoting employee well-being, focus and productivity throughout the day.

“Our vision with the Kabine Acoustic Booth Range was to elevate everyday working experiences,” said the team at Quell Design. “We wanted to create more than just a booth — we wanted to design a sanctuary. Somewhere people could pause, focus, and perform at their best. A space that truly promotes well-being, focus and productivity in a fast-paced world.”

Crafted with precision and intention, the Kabine Acoustic Booth Range features:

- Superior acoustic insulation for peace and concentration
- Contemporary finishes designed to elevate any interior
- Soft lighting and ventilation to support physical and mental comfort
- Seamless integration with existing office layouts
- Accessible design and intuitive booking options

Attendees at the launch will be the first to experience the Kabine range in person, explore its full capabilities, and discover how it transforms office dynamics. The event will also celebrate the opening of Quell Design’s new showroom — a creative and collaborative destination where innovation meets elegance in workplace design.
