Forecasting the Future of Workplace Design: An Exclusive Panel Discussion.

Join industry experts for an insightful and engaging panel discussion focused on the future of workplace design, presented by Quell Design. This exclusive event will explore the evolving trends and essential topics shaping the future of office spaces, including biophilic design, colour trends, and designing for younger generations.

The panel will dive deep into the following key areas:

- Biophilic Design: How nature-inspired environments are transforming workplace wellbeing.
- Colour and Trends: The colours and materials driving modern workspace aesthetics.
- Designing for Gen Z & Young Millennials: Adapting workplace design to meet the needs and preferences of younger employees.
- Mental Health & Positivity: Creating spaces that support mental wellbeing and a positive work culture.
- Bringing Hospitality Design into the Workplace: How hospitality-inspired design enhances employee experience and productivity.

The session will be held at Quell Design's new showroom followed by an open Q&A. We're excited to announce that Michaela Reysenn from KAI Interiors will lead the panel discussion, bringing her expertise and insight into workplace design. Additionally, we will be joined by Maria Oliva.

102-108 Clerkenwell Rd, London EC1M 5SA

This is a rare opportunity to engage with leading professionals and explore the trends defining the future of office design.
