

Kronospan Opens New Design Centre in the Heart of Clerkenwell for CDW 2025

We're excited to share that Kronospan is launching a brand-new Design Center in London – just in time for Clerkenwell Design Week. You'll find us at 73–75 Goswell Road, EC1V 7ER, where our latest space will become a home for creativity, inspiration, and collaboration.

As a team that lives and breathes surfaces and materials, we wanted to create a place where designers, architects, and specifiers can get hands-on with our products and truly explore what's possible with the Kronodesign®, Kronobuild®, Krono Original®, Kaindl, FALCO and Emporio Skin collections.

What to Expect

From Tuesday 20th to Thursday 22nd May, the Kronospan Design Center will host a full schedule of engaging sessions, demos, and relaxed networking opportunities. Think of it as a behind-the-scenes look at the textures, trends, and techniques that drive what we do.

Here's a preview of what's happening:

Innovative Surfaces: The Decor Design Journey

Go deeper into how our decors are created – from trend forecasting to final finish.

Live Flooring Demonstrations

Watch our team install intricate herringbone designs using our latest flooring technology.

Sushi & Samba in Style – Wednesday Night

An evening of vibrant music and exceptional food – a perfect way to unwind and connect.
