Chelsom Set to Launch New Collection

Clerkenwell Design Week 2025 marks a hugely exciting time for Chelsom as they launch their Spring/ Summer '25 collection. The launch sees the introduction of brand-new decorative lighting designs that use a multitude of eclectic materials including marble, alabaster, travertine and glass.

Led by Will Chelsom and James Bartlett, the Chelsom design team has created iconic new lighting products, aimed at the hospitality, marine and residential interiors sectors. A combination of stunning brass tones, organic materials, neat proportions, and the latest technology ensures that this new collection from Chelsom will sustain their position as one of the leading suppliers of decorative lighting to the global interiors market.
