MUVIT

The Muvit range arose from the awareness that offices are changing from inert places where each element has its own fixed place, a dedicated space in which its function is performed better than in any other, to vital spaces where there is room for uncertainty or improvisation.

It is not a matter of consigning a traditional system of organising job posts to oblivion, but of recognising that new needs have arisen. Forma 5 has therefore created Muvit, a family of tables, trolleys and stools to add dynamism to areas within the office.

Muvit presents us with 74 cm- and 110 cm-high tables as part of the agile logic, a business philosophy that allows team great autonomy to build ideas and projects. Equipped with large-diameter wheels, they are prepared to accompany all transformations and reconfigurations of the areas of activity. Unlike the classic monolithic workstations, which break with the option of generating alternative collaborative currents, Muvit is here to promote people's well-being and productivity.

Accompanying the tables, Forma5 has conceived a complementary concept for Muvit, a trolley that can serve as an organiser for and to transport support materials, as catering for meetings, whiteboards or as a lectern for digital or analogue presentations. Its varied aesthetics make it compatible with all kinds of corporate environments.

Finally, the Muvit stool was born to fulfil environmental commitments, the result of a search for the most sustainable manufacturing processes. Made from recycled PET from bottles, this branch of the Muvit family is characterised by great lightness and resistance; it can be folded and transported wherever required.
