sixteen3 are thrilled to announce the launch of Artus, a game-changing modular screen system designed to transform office spaces. With its innovative geometric design and adaptable framework, Artus brings a fresh and fun perspective to workplace aesthetics and functionality.

Meaning 'Framework' in Latin, Artus draws inspiration from post-modernist art and architecture. Featuring different sized panels with square or arced corners which combine to form freestanding walls and partitions. Drop in desks can be added to create workspaces and our Monsal benches pair effortlessly with Artus walls to form comfortable meeting booths.

Drawing inspiration from the vibrant world of post-modernist art and architecture, Artus showcases a visually playful design that captivates the imagination. Individually upholstered panels offer multi-tonal possibilities, with brackets which can contrast or complement, creating a dynamic and engaging environment. This infusion of creativity brings a touch of whimsy to the workplace, igniting inspiration and fostering a sense of productivity and well-being.

Beyond its captivating design, Artus boasts vast flexibility. Its modular construction enables effortless reconfiguration, empowering businesses to adapt their office spaces as their needs evolve. Whether it's creating freestanding upholstered walls, designing workstations, hotdesks, or comfortable meeting spaces, Artus provides the perfect solution. The system's versatility ensures that offices can keep pace with the demands of the modern world, maximizing both space utilization and employee collaboration.

One of the defining features of Artus is its honest construction. The visible powder-coated brackets celebrate the product's de-constructible nature. This allows for effortless dismantling, reconfiguration, updating, or repair, providing a cost-effective solution that supports long-term sustainability.

"Artus represents a lighthearted and fresh take on office space design" says Charles Bramwell, Head of Product Design. "We believe that a well-designed workspace can inspire creativity, boost productivity, and enhance employee well-being. With Artus, we provide businesses with a dynamic framework that combines form, function, and adaptability, enabling them to thrive in a rapidly changing world."

Artus is set to redefine the way we perceive and utilize office spaces. Its versatility, playful design, and commitment to sustainability make it an ideal choice for businesses seeking to create inspiring environments that align with their evolving needs.
