

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Artisan Elegance Meets Modern Design: Grestec Unveils Mastreta Collection of Elongated Brick-Shaped Tiles

31.01.2024

In a bold move away from conventional designs, Grestec Tiles, a supplier in innovative tile solutions, introduces the Mastreta collection—an elegant series of elongated brick-shaped porcelain tiles designed to redefine spaces. With dimensions of 48x450mm and a sleek gloss finish, this collection embodies modern luxury, artisanal craftsmanship and versatility.

The Mastreta collection comes in a palette of ten exquisite colours, each carefully curated to cater to diverse design preferences. From timeless neutrals to bold statement hues and earthy tones, these brick-shaped tiles allow for endless creative possibilities. While the 48x450mm size adds a contemporary twist to the classic brick shape, to present a dynamic canvas for interior designers.

The versatility of these tiles extends beyond aesthetics. Crafted with durability in mind, they are suitable for a variety of commercial applications, including bars, restaurants, retail, hotels and residential projects. The tiles are not only visually appealing but also easy to clean and maintain, ensuring longevity and functionality. The collection also incorporates 30% recycled material and carries an EPD certification, establishing it as a sustainable choice for interior design.

"Our commitment to providing unique and trendsetting solutions led us to offer this stunning collection of brick-shaped tiles. We believe that the combination of the unique brick shape and the rich palette of colours will resonate with our customers seeking distinctive design elements," says Daren Eastman, spokesperson for Grestec Tiles.

With this launch, Grestec Tiles aims to provide architects and designers, with a versatile tool to transform spaces. The Mastreta collection is available to view at the Glasgow Material Source Studio or alternatively samples can be requested directly from www.grestec.co.uk.

About Grestec Tiles:

Grestec specialises in supplying premium floor and wall tiles to architects and designers across the UK, boasting an extensive selection of high-quality porcelain, ceramic, glass, and natural stone tiles that are suitable for commercial, retail, and residential projects. Grestec takes pride in delivering tailored and expert assistance and guidance throughout every phase of the project.

For media inquiries, high-resolution images, or further information, please contact:

Nicole Freiter

nicole@grestec.co.uk

0345 130 2241