Since 1962 Ceramiche Piemme has been designing and manufacturing ceramics, becoming the undisputed protagonist of Made in Italy. A product that is the expression of quality, Italian style and design.

LIMESTONE: THE BEAUTY OF A NATURAL STONE

Limestone is a natural stone highly appreciated not only for its resistance, but also for its monochrome and subtle light-toned veins which make it versatile and transversal in architectural designs.

The colors, white, beige, grey and black, derive from different geological formations of the countries which they come from: the brilliance of Italian white limestone, the golden shades of French stone, the authenticity of English stone, and the elegance of Belgian black stone, faithful reproductions of the original sedimentary rocks.

The honed surface has been made with the innovative Synchro Digit Piemme® technology, a technique that creates a glossy and matt effect that can highlight the details of the limestone's veining while giving it a natural look.
