Ro Collection presents a range of new colours inspired by Danish nature.

Ro Collection is excited to present furniture in new and contemporary colours and upholstery combinations at this year's Clerkenwell Design Week in London.

Ro Collection is a Danish design brand, embracing a novel approach to Danish design traditions, deeply rooted in the love of craftsmanship, functionality, and tranquillity.

Ro is Danish for serenity, calmness, and peace of mind.

Together with talented designers and artisans, Ro Collection brings elegant furniture and accessories to life through nature's own materials. Meant to live. Meant to last.

This year, Ro Collection launches the fair experience, "Colours of Ro" – a brand new take on the existing collection of high-quality chairs designed by prolific Danish designers, Asger Soelberg and Carsten Buhl. Ro Collection looks forward to presenting a colourful highlight of its chair collection's design, craftsmanship and many customisation possibilities.

Experience the new collection of special edition chairs, named after elements of Danish nature, including Clear horizon, Forest floor, Midnight haze and Wild rose, and fill your corner of the world with Ro.

Locate the Ro Collection stand in the Danish Collection at Paxton Locher House, 8-9 Clerkenwell Green, London EC1R 0DE.
