

Szostak Atelier welcomes everyone to see it's handcrafted designs for the first time in person at Design Helsinki

This year at Design Helsinki it's the unique chance to see in person the bespoke design entirely handcrafted by Witold Szostak, a Cracow-based artist and designer. He creates stunning, chic, exclusive items in wood, vegetable-tanned leather and stainless steel and has developed a unique and recognised style appreciated both in his home-country and abroad.

Szostak Atelier's most iconic products are retro yet futuristic wooden massive fans. At the heart of the event - International Design Pavilion - you will be able to see, inter alia, one of these as a part of the Finish Collection. Pieces created by Witold Szostak stand where art and design meet, they are mostly on-of-a-kind, tailored made designs for high-end interiors, luxurious residences and yachts.

Witold Szostak stays inspired by sailing and motor boats, pioneering planes, airships, sports cars and motorcycles from the 50s-70s as these fantastic objects combine beauty, noble materials, style and sophisticated design. He aims to find a new form with the use of classic materials and great workmanship to connect modern style with heritage.

There will be a possibility to meet the artist himself at the Szostak Atelier exposition during the fairs together with his daughter who contributes running the family-business.

This year they will also present a sneak peak of the new, more commercial products line which is going to be made in cooperation with small manufacturers across Poland.
