10. International transfers of personal data

It is possible that personal data we collect from you may be transferred, stored and/or processed outside the European Economic Area.

In connection with such transfers we will ensure that:

- a) there are appropriate safeguards in place such as binding corporate rules or the approved EU model contractual clauses between us and the recipient (as per Article 46 GDPR (or English law equivalent)). A copy of the appropriate safeguard can be obtained by contacting us using the contact details set out in paragraph 4; or
- b) the transfer is to a country that the European Commission has decided provides an adequate level of protection such as to a country approved by the European Commission or to certain organisations with the US pursuant to the Privacy Shield (as per Article 45 GDPR (or English law equivalent)); or

- c) one of the derogations for specific situations in the first sub-paragraph of Article 49(1) GDPR (or English law equivalent) applies to the transfer including explicit consent or necessary for the performance of a contract or exercise or defence of legal claims.

11. Retention period

We will store your personal data for the time period which is appropriate in accordance with the following criteria:

- (a) the on-going business operation / relationship that we have with you;
- (b) the completion of the purpose for which the personal data was given;
- (c) our legal obligations in relation to that personal data and other legal requirements;
- (d) the type and size of the data held; and
- (e) our accounting requirements in relation to that personal data.

[In relation to personal data used to provide information to you about future exhibitions, subject to your legal rights and applicable data protection law, we process your personal data for three show cycles as long as you are actively receiving and acting upon contact from us. Because the data pertains to multiple events which vary in frequency (bi-annual, annual, biennial, triennial and quadrennial) Messe Frankfurt UK Ltd's retention period reflects that of the least frequent event.]

Data will not be kept for longer than it is needed for the purposes for which it was gathered.

12. Personal data about other people

If you provide personal data to us about someone else (such as one of your organisation's directors or employees, or someone with whom you have business dealings) you must ensure that you are entitled to disclose that personal data to us and that, without our taking any further steps, we may collect, use and disclose that personal data as described in this Privacy Notice.

You must ensure the individual concerned is aware of the various matters detailed in this Privacy Notice, as those matters relate to that individual, including our identity, how to contact us, the way in which we collect and use personal data and our personal data disclosure practices, that individual's right to obtain access to the personal data and make complaints about the handling of the personal data, and the consequences if the personal data is not provided.

13. What happens if you do not provide certain required data

In certain circumstances the provision of personal data by you is a requirement to comply with the law or a contract, or necessary to enter into a contract.

It is your choice as to whether you provide us with your personal data necessary to enter into a contract or as part of a contractual requirement. If you do not provide your personal data in such circumstances then we may not be able to perform our services or perform them to the level you expect under our contract with you.

14. Your rights in relation to your personal data

Subject to applicable law including relevant data protection laws, in addition to your ability to withdraw any consent you have given to our processing your personal data (see paragraph 8), you have the following rights:

- Right of access – you have the right to request a copy of the information that we hold about you.
- Right of rectification – you have a right to correct personal data that we hold about you that is inaccurate or taking into account the purposes of our processing, to request that incomplete personal data is completed.
- Right to be forgotten – in certain circumstances you can ask for the personal data we hold about you to be erased from our records.
- Right to restriction of processing – where certain conditions apply to have a right to restrict the processing.
- Right of portability – in certain circumstances you have the right to have certain of the personal data we hold about you transferred to another organisation.
- Right to object – you have an absolute right to object to direct marketing, and the right to object to other processing by us based on the legal basis of legitimate interests on grounds relating to your particular situation (unless we have compelling legitimate grounds for the processing that override this).
- Right to complain - In the event that you wish to make a complaint about how your personal data is being processed by Messe Frankfurt UK Ltd (or its data processors), or how your complaint has been handled, please contact our Data Protection Officer in the first instance using the details below and we will endeavour to resolve your complaint. You also have the right at any time to lodge a complaint with the Information Commissioner's Office online at <https://ico.org.uk/concerns/> or by telephone on 0303 123 1113.
