Reach for CZANIECKI

Our pasta is a culinary sign of the times. It is the basis of dishes that we cook both every day and on special occasions, at home and at master culinary shows, but always with heart. Fill your kitchen with flavors, aromas and smells that will stay with your family forever.

who we are

Czanieckie Makarony Sp z o. o. is a family company founded in 1990 by Władysław and Zbigniew Dybał.

Family members have worked in the company since its inception. We currently employ approximately 250 people, most of them from the nearest area. Many people have been working with us almost from the beginning.

When Władysław Dybał came up with the idea of making pasta, he wanted to make Sunday dinner easier for families - this is how the krajanka, our flagship product, was created.

The company's management board is the third generation, which makes every effort to continue the family tradition by providing the best pasta that you can use for many dishes every day.

Experience

We have been producing pasta for over 30 years. We approach the creation of our unique products with heart and care. We are looking for new connections, extracting the unknown from the known. We pay attention to the smallest details so that the taste and smell of our delicious pasta will appeal to the greatest gourmets and culinary experts.

10,000 tons of pasta per year

We are constantly moving towards the future, focusing on continuous development and innovation. Understanding our customers and their needs is most important to us. Thanks to this, we can provide products of the highest quality that meet the most demanding standards.

One of the most important elements of our strategy is investing in the latest technologies. The high-quality machines we use to produce our pasta are the result of a constant search for the best technological solutions.

This allows us to use resources efficiently while maintaining high production quality.

highest quality

For years, we have been proud of the BRC certificate, an international food safety standard that specifies a number of requirements that the company should meet to ensure the highest quality and safety of the products offered.

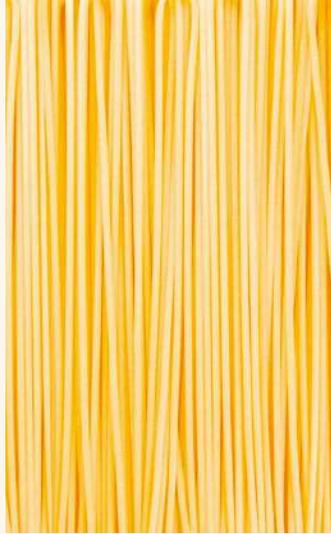

Another element that distinguishes us from the competition is our own professional laboratory. Thanks to it, we can be sure that every product that leaves our factory meets the highest quality standards. Every day we check the ingredients from which our pasta is made, as well as the finished product. This allows us to ensure consumers that they receive only the best products from us.

We place great emphasis on cleanliness and order in the workplace. We believe this is crucial to maintaining the high quality of our products. Regular hygiene training and rigorous inspection procedures ensure that each employee understands their role in maintaining cleanliness and order.

We support activity

Physical activity is an integral part of a healthy lifestyle, which is why our company supports a number of sports events.

As you know, pasta is a great source of carbohydrates, which are an important element of athletes' diets.

And the clean composition of our products encourages you to prepare delicious regenerative meals and more.
