

procurement of raw materials

Through contract cultivation, the entire growth process from sowing to harvest is systematically managed, and a stable supply and demand of raw materials is established by establishing a control center for the shipment of radishes and cabbages in North Gyeongsang Province. Secured raw materials through contract cultivation with 30 farms in the jurisdiction and 18 farms outside the jurisdiction. Only top-notch domestic agricultural products are used.

production management

clean water management

100% water supply and no reuse

Periodic water quality inspection (once a month)

the highest level of hygiene control

Blocking bacterial and dust inflows through the three-step factory entry process

Periodic worker health check-up

Operate a team dedicated to quality and hygiene management

Continuous quality and hygiene management in connection with the Agricultural Cooperative Food R&D Research Institute Periodic sample inspection and quality monitoring (1 quality team leader and 2 quality managers)

quality control

a differentiated production process

5-step cleaning process

Defective products are removed through four foreign substances and screening processes

Foreign object inspection and metal detection in individual units

Industry-leading sanitation management

Specifying a vendor to apply hACCP

Traditional Food Quality Certificate, Food Safety Management System Certificate, LOHAS Certificate Get it

Obtained a patent on the method of making situational mushroom kimchi

Nine World Countries Pass Tough

Export Standards

know-how in kimchi

Special preparation method of encephalopathy mushroom

Producing healthier and more delicious kimchi without flavor enhancers by using the patented method of producing environmental mushroom extract

Anchovy fish sauce made by making it yourself

On the southern coast, the anchovies were directly delivered, and the anchovies were directly made with domestic sea salt minus the brine, and kimchi was produced by using anchovy salted anchovies

differentiated red pepper powder

In the northern part of Gyeongsangbuk-do, the largest producer of peppers in the country, only the best peppers are supplied by contract cultivation and processed cleanly at a haccp-certified factory