Strength, endurance, style

An experienced team of designers, passionate about aesthetics and durability, we help you find your style and turn your space into an inspiring environment. Your floor is more than premium engineering, it's the ground beneath your feet. You know how it should function and how you want it to look. We take care of both. Our designers and engineers understand people and spaces and bring expertise and outstanding results to every project.

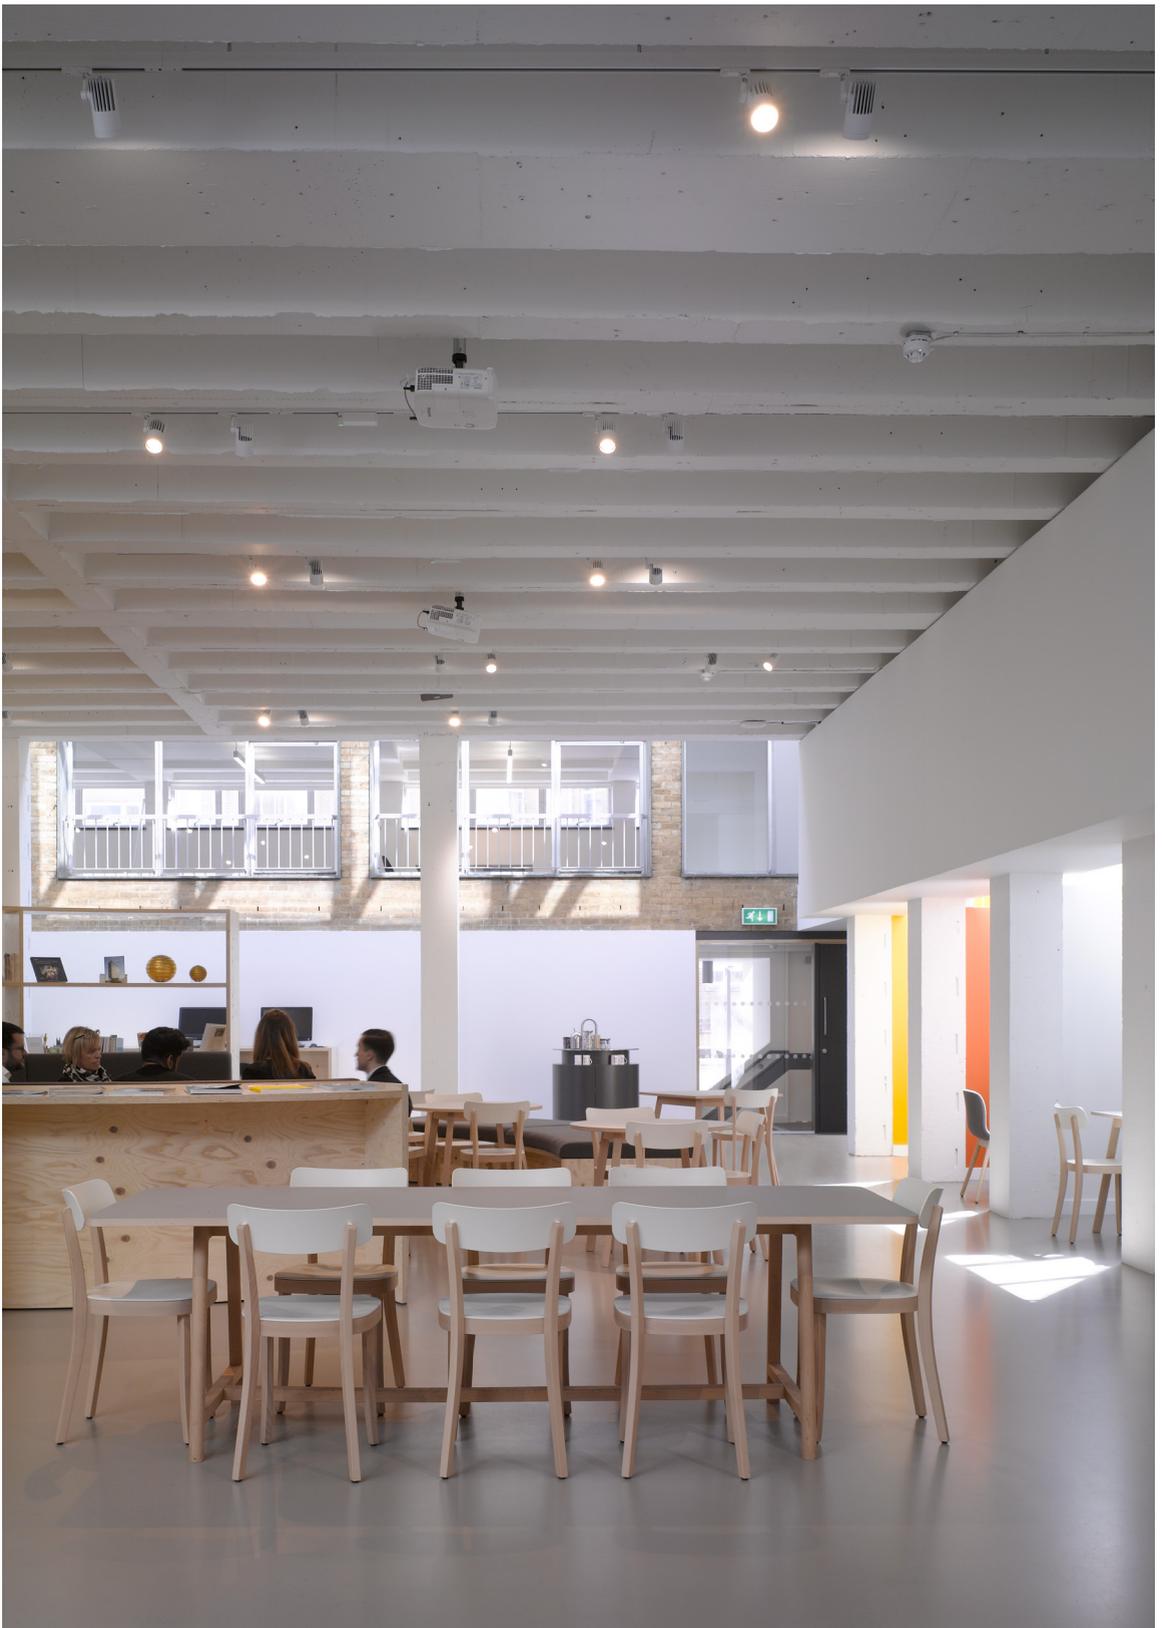

From decorative floors to performance systems, we cater to architects, interior designers and private clients with floors of any size, for private, public or commercial spaces.

Shaping spaces together

Together with our partner Bolidt, we design, supply and install the highest quality resins on the market. Bolidt has been leading the global market in innovative synthetic applications for over 50 years. The company's origins lie in industry, combining robust products with aesthetics. Their mission is to shape the future with synthetics, replacing traditional materials, so we can all live and work in better, healthier environments. They are leaders in safety, sustainability, energy, design and hygiene and develop, produce and supply high quality flooring systems, which our specialist teams install across the UK.

Your surface, your style, our mission

And once we begin, we're there for the duration – until installation is complete and you are dancing, leaping and skipping around on your gorgeous new floor.

For Planet Earth, with love

For us, sustainability is more than a buzzword. We care about our beautiful planet, and we only work with environmentally friendly products. Our floors are solvent-free and 100% free of plasticisers (phthalates), with highly durable colour retaining systems selected from the Natural Colour Scheme, made from organic pigments from plant extracts. Chalk, stone, residual waste and vegetable oils replace mineral oils.

Floors consist of a thermosetting polymer-based synthetic material, adjusted to suit the specific application. They achieve BREEAM A+ and hold the ecological synthetics hallmark. Every floor is manufactured to order and mixed on site, for zero wastage.

The floor is applied in liquid form for a seamless, even finish and guarantees a non-slip surface. Our floors are smooth, pore-free and hygienic, easy to maintain, durable and wear resistant. Thanks to their elasticity, they are resistant to impact, scratch and cracks. Go on – do your worst!

"We used Stratum to floor the corridors and they did a great job. We chose them for the main space after James' thorough prep before we committed to the job. The on-site team were a pleasure and worked tirelessly to resurface the floor in the allocated time. We're over the moon with the result. It's never looked better."

– Ruth Butler | Head of Technical and Production | Roundhouse, Camden

"We would totally recommend it over and over to everyone we know."

– Yi Dai | Residential Client

The Stratum pledge

Healthy and fresh environments

Filth, be gone! Our seamless floors are bactericidal and fungicidal, creating an unwelcoming environment for germs and bacteria to set up home or multiply. With no awkward edges, joins or angles, floors can be cleaned thoroughly and are pore-free, so no dirt can penetrate the surface. Our floors are resistant to hot drinks and most chemicals and cleaning agents.

Evolving spaces

©Ed Reeve

Flexibility is key to growing businesses and spaces must be able to adjust and expand. Our systems are easy to modify, just let us know when you need a new look or more (or less) space. We can give your floor a complete make-over, quickly and easily, without having to install a new system.

Golden silence

Noise reduction is an important factor across many sectors. Heavy footsteps can disturb working and educational environments, performances and medical processes. Our unique systems with seamless floor finishes laid on an absorbent base layer effectively reduce noise. Say goodbye to those pesky walking, rolling and riding sound effects.

Effortless foundations

Functional and long-lasting, our flooring systems are perfect for heavy day-to-day foot and furniture traffic and require minimal maintenance. Cleaning couldn't be easier thanks to the optimised surface structure and the absence of protective films or layers. Seamless floors with no joins mean no failures, ensuring a longer service life and low maintenance costs.
