CONNECT

AT REGIONAL AND NATIONAL CONFERENCES: AFWA regional and national conferences provide forums for accounting and finance professionals, at any career level, to learn from leading experts on ways to enhance professional and technical skills. The conferences also provide opportunities for women across the country to form connections with industry leaders and those just beginning their careers, all while earning CPE.

AT CHAPTER EVENTS: With over 70 Chapters across the country, you're bound to find one in your area. Connect with professionals in your field at Chapter events that range from CPE sessions, to networking events, to community volunteer activities.

WITH A MENTOR: All levels of the accounting and finance profession are represented within our membership, allowing you to connect with mentor or mentee.

WITH A NEW COLLEAGUE AND FRIEND: Your AFWA Chapter will become your local professional community, and you'll develop lifelong personal and professional connections with these women.

"It is a professional organization of amazing and supportive women who demonstrate an interest in my success and advancement."

Darcelle Dixon-Hunt
Los Angeles, CA

"And to think that I would never have heard of this job, nor been considered for it, if I had not gone to that AFWA meeting."

Karen Hosier
Omaha, NE

"Being involved in AFWA is one of the most important catalysts in my career."

Rebecca King
Jacksonville, FL

ADVANCE

By continually learning new technical skills and developing professional skills necessary to increase your value as an employee, as a boss, or a business owner.

By developing a strong network with women with common professional goals, locally and nationally, who work for a variety of companies and industries.

By serving in a leadership position in your Chapter, and even advancing to a National volunteer position with the National Board or Foundation of AFWA.

LEAD

AFWA's mission is to empower members to achieve their professional goals. The leadership positions you assume within the organization translate to a higher aptitude to lead in the office and the industry. You'll improve both your soft and professional skills, increasing your leadership potential and impressing your boss and clients.
