

Three Patterns of Deception and a Radical Path to Truth

VIRTUAL WORKSHOP WITH PAMELA MEYER

Course Information

Pamela Meyer is known for her riveting keynote speeches and one-hour training sessions. Her TED Talk has been viewed over 30 million times and is the 11th most popular TED Talk of all time. She provides her audiences with detailed scientific findings on which personality types lie, how deception is expressed in e-mail, on the phone, and in person, and how to detect deception through body language, statement analysis, ethical interviewing techniques, and facial micro-expression identification. With this one-hour virtual workshop, participants will work closely with Pamela as she teaches them advanced skills in spotting deception, getting to the truth and developing trust that lasts.

In a media-rich multimedia presentation featuring real-life examples of politicians, celebrities and ordinary people, Meyer keeps her audiences of financial professionals, fraud and insurance investigators, security pro's, sales executives, and managers laughing while they learn. She presents a path toward trust that emphasizes integrity, maturity, honesty, and the importance of having difficult conversations during difficult times.

Learning objectives:

At the end of the session, participants will be able to:

- Detect verbal and nonverbal indicators of deceit
- Distinguish truthful from false stories by analyzing someone's story structure
- Ask several questions that elicit the truth -even from passive-aggressive conversation partners
- Understand who lies the most often and how men and women lie in different ways
- Identify two facial expressions associated with deception
