About Us

As the originator of practice medications for clinical simulation, the Wallcur Practi-range allows instructors to create a safe and authentic training experience that is guaranteed to increase student and professional readiness, and cut down on medication administration errors.

We believe in increasing core competencies through realistic training and simulation. Since 1972, Wallcur has offered the highest quality, most innovative medical, nursing, pharmacy and paramedic training products. These products are now available for the first time in the UK, exclusively through Qualsafe.

Not for human or animal use.
For training purposes only.

Now available in the UK

Practi-products are designed to provide safe, accurate and realistic clinical simulation practice which results in greater retention of students, less risk in clinical practice, and overall better healthcare providers.

- ✓ Allows clinical procedures to be practiced in complete safety
- ✓ Realistic, true to life design – all products look and feel exactly like the real thing
- ✓ High quality, durable products for hands on practice
- ✓ Fully customisable label printing service available
- ✓ Medically accurate unit dosages, reconstitution for IV's ampule and vial handling and injection techniques
- ✓ Now available in the UK, exclusively through Qualsafe

Pre-Filled Syringes

Our Pre-filled Syringe range allows you to safely teach your students a variety of skills. Each syringe is pre-filled with distilled water, is practice manikin and simulator safe, and is clearly marked and bar coded for easy identification and verification. With the Practi-Glucagon Kit, prepare your students for patients with severe hypoglycemia or low blood sugar including reconstitution, proper aseptic technique, and injection.

Practi-Injecta Pad Accessories

Add the Practi-SimSkin for realistic intradermal injection practice that produces a 'bleb' or 'wheal' and the Practi-Anatomical Templates for quick visualisation, realistic placement and injection technique practice.

Practi-Injecta Pads

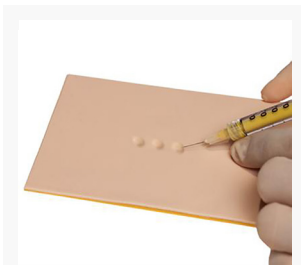

For the very best in injection technique training, the Practi-Injecta Pads give the feel of a live injection, with perfect simulation of skin puncture resistance, tissue displacement, and aspiration tension.

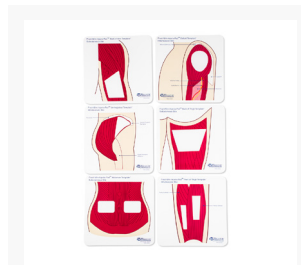

The realistic thickness allows practice with a variety of needle lengths, with top and bottom surfaces available for injection of air or liquid for the practice of intramuscular and subcutaneous injections.
