

BARTA Large Animal Rescue Team Leader

Leading large animal rescues present unique operational challenges. Responding to predictable but often erratic behaviour of animal casualties, reassuring an owner and working with veterinarians and Incident Commanders to develop effective tactical plans are all essential components of BARTA's Large Animal Rescue Team Leader Course.

The module is part of a suite of training supporting knowledge criteria of UK Fire and Rescue Service National Operational Guidance and designed for agencies with an organised response for large animal rescue.

Delegates will learn from experienced rescue and veterinary responders with application through case studies and practical scenarios.
