Core values

Proven track record of introducing new and innovative products

Retail presence in 1000+ stores within UK & Ireland

Experienced at all levels from distribution, product placement to sourcing

We value all types of business, from small retail stores to large scale clients

Nothing is perfect.

There can never be enough options, enough add-ons or enough customisable features: just because a product does not have something the customer needs, it doesn't mean it should be accepted as it is. The customer has a choice and at Techpoint we are here to deliver innovative products.
