

TeamPolice

WELLBEING THROUGH SPORT

TeamPolice is passionate about supporting our policing family and is working closely with Police Sport UK (PSUK) to generate funds for its 300,000 members, serving, retired and their families. We want to increase the opportunities for members of the police family not only to participate at grass-root and elite sport levels but also to provide wider support so that everyone feels encouraged to work on their own physical and mental fitness journey.

Our Police service does a great deal on our behalf. In order to protect our communities and our way of life we frequently ask these brave men and women to risk their lives and when called upon they do so with great courage and professionalism. They carry out challenging tasks every day to protect people from risk, threat, and harm. Whether on the operational front line dealing with crisis events or in support roles protecting our most vulnerable members of society, police officers and staff face physical and emotional trauma on a regular basis. Sport is critical to the morale, motivation and wellbeing of our Police. There is strong evidence that taking part in sport considerably improves health and wellbeing.

Team Police is supported by organisations and individuals who share the same passion and positive values and who are proud to say they are supporting our Police. We provide a unique sponsorship channel to raise profile and brand awareness for your organisation and access to a valuable network for B2B activity.

“After being diagnosed with PTSD in 2017 sport became a major part of my recovery and really helped me regain control of my life.”

Linda Wall
Retired DCI
Thames Valley Police

JOIN THE TEAM

Would you like to become a sponsor? Together we can make the thin blue line stronger. Contact info@teampolice.uk for further information.

teampolice.uk

“We are on a mission to increase the reach and opportunities for the policing community to participate in sport as part of our wellbeing strategy.”

Matt Jukes

Assistant Commissioner Metropolitan Police and Chair of Police Sport UK

RECENT EVENTS

Our series of webinars aims to get the conversation going between Policing leaders and other organisations who consider sporting activity as an essential element to wellbeing in the police.
teampolice.uk/webinars

Virtual challenges for everyone. A series of online family-oriented challenges for the policing family. The advent challenge attracted over 600 participants and more are in development for 2021.
teampolice.uk/spring-challenge

Visit our website to view the latest police sporting fixtures & events.

ABOUT TEAMPOLICE

TeamPolice is the fundraising body for police sport in the UK. It is a joint venture between Police Sport UK (PSUK) and EthosVO.

TeamPolice raises much needed funds through an innovative commercial sponsorship scheme to help improve the wellbeing of everyone who is serving and has served in our Police service by enabling increased participation in sport and physical activity. Our approach to fundraising is to act fairly and transparently and in the best interests of PSUK and the police forces in general. All profits raised through TeamPolice are regularly donated to PSUK which is governed by a board of trustees which includes senior officers and non-serving members.

PSUK represents all the Police Forces of England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland and provides sporting opportunities for over 300,000 serving and retired police staff.

EthosVO is a social business accelerator working in the areas of work, wellbeing and smarter living.

If you would like further information about joining TeamPolice contact us:

info@teampolice.uk

teampolice.uk