

Continuing to evolve security through innovation– International Security Week – 30 Nov- 03 December 2020

[7th September 2020] Following the postponement of International Security Expo co-located with International Cyber Expo and International Disaster Response Expo until 28-29 September 2021, Nineteen Group remains committed to continuing to serve the needs of the security and wider resilience communities through high-level content and thought leadership. Working closely with leading industry brands and expert speakers we are pleased to announce the launch of International Security Week (ISW).

Running online from 30th November – 3rd December, the virtual event supports the portfolios core values of collaboration, innovation and premium content. Over 4 days speakers from the highest levels of government, industry and academia will share expertise and insight into the fields of security, cyber and disaster response.

Alison Jackson, the Managing Director of the Nineteen Group said, “Although we can’t deliver a physical event at Olympia this year due to the current COVID climate and travel restrictions the virtual event will allow us to keep essential issues of security, cyber and disaster response at the forefront of industry knowledge.”

Day one and three will see in-depth sessions on, international security issues including Global Counter Terrorism, Serious Organised Crime, Aviation and Transport, Protecting Crowded Places, Security Planning in a Pandemic, protecting CNI and the future changes in a post Brexit world.

Day two will focus on the world of cyber security, providing detail and exclusive insight into the latest research, means to counter the cyber threat, future cyber trends, social engineering and cyber baseline training. Whilst the final day promises to deliver a truly engaging and informative overview of the immediate lessons learned from the pandemic including the building of a Nightingale Hospital, a discussion on the channel immigrant crisis and crisis management, communication, Preparedness, Response and Recovery.

Rachael Shattock, the portfolios’ newly appointed Event Director said “Top-level content will form the core of an exciting and informative four-day conference. Here at Nineteen Group we understand that industry knowledge, best practice and keeping up to date with the latest insights is more important than ever in the current climate and we want to do everything we can to help, engage and drive businesses forward.”

Register your interest in attending here: <https://www.internationalsecurityexpo.com/register-for-international-security-week> and you will be kept up-to-date with the exciting programme and speakers as they are confirmed and of course be guaranteed a place and opportunity to submit questions for the online International Security Week. Can you afford not to attend?

EndsNotes to Editors:

International Security Week is an online event running from 30th November – 3rd December, this virtual event incorporates International Security Expo, International Cyber Expo and International Disaster Response Expo. Supporting the portfolios core values of collaboration, innovation and premium content, this 4 day event will feature speakers from the highest levels of government, industry, and academia all of which will share expertise and insight into the fields of security, cyber and disaster response.

<https://www.internationalsecurityexpo.com/international-security-week>