The Fire Safety Event Asia 2026 Returns Following a Highly Successful Debut Edition as Registration Officially Opens in Singapore

- Brings together international industry partners to exchange insights on fire safety market trends and regulatory developments
- Marks the launch of the Skills for Security Competition Asia - Fire Category this year

Singapore, 15 June 2026 – Registration is officially open for the second edition of The Fire Safety Event Asia (FSEA), which will be held from 10 – 12 November 2026 at the Sands Expo & Convention Centre, Singapore. As part of the wider Safety & Security Asia portfolio, FSEA serves as a dedicated platform to bring together fire safety professionals, solution providers and industry leaders shaping the future of fire protection.

Building on strong international participation and industry engagement in 2025, FSEA continues to provide a key platform for exchanging insights on fire safety market trends and evolving regulatory developments across the Asia Pacific region. The 2026 edition is expected to further strengthen cross-border collaboration and knowledge-sharing within the global fire safety community.

Tristan Norman, Group Managing Director of Nineteen Group commented: "The success of our inaugural edition highlighted the growing demand for a dedicated event focused on the fire safety sector across Asia Pacific. As regulations evolve and new technologies emerge, there is an increasing need for the industry to come together, share expertise and learn from one another to help drive higher standards across the region."

We're excited to return to Singapore this November and welcome an even broader international audience of manufacturers, solution providers and fire safety professionals. FSEA provides an important opportunity to discover new innovations, discuss industry challenges and build the connections that will help shape the future of fire safety in Asia Pacific.

FSEA 2026 is expected to attract more than 3,000 fire safety professionals and showcase solutions from 75 global leading manufacturers and suppliers including international brands such as Johnson Controls, Fieldmagic, Sistem Teknik, as well as local trailblazers such as IT Technologies and Apex Fire, showcasing solutions designed to address the evolving fire safety challenges faced in the Asia Pacific region.

Glenn Richmond, Founder and CEO of Fieldmagic commented: "The Fire Safety Event Asia 2025 provided a valuable platform for us to connect with industry professionals, decision makers and potential partners from across the region. The quality of engagement and business opportunities generated made the event a worthwhile investment, and we're pleased to be returning in 2026 as the event continues to grow as a key meeting point for the fire safety community in Asia."

Launch of Skills for Security Asia Competition - Fire Category

This year marks the launch of the Fire category, expanding opportunities for skills development and talent engagement within the fire safety sector. In partnership with Skills for Security UK and Temasek Polytechnic – Security Industry Institute, The Fire Safety Event Asia 2026 will host the Skills for Security Competition Asia. Making its debut in the Asia-Pacific region, the competition will challenge aspiring Fire System Engineers and Technicians to assemble a fire protection system in the shortest possible time.

Addressing Industry Changes Through Learning Programmes

A key highlight of FSEA 2026 will be the return of the Fire Industry Association (FIA), which will deliver a dedicated half-day conference programme covering the latest regulatory developments, industry standards and best practices in fire safety. Featuring expert speakers and industry leaders, the programme will provide attendees with practical insights into compliance, emerging trends and the evolving challenges facing the fire safety sector, supporting ongoing professional development and sharing knowledge across the industry.

Chris Tilley, Head of Commercial for Fire Industry Association, commented: “The strong response to the inaugural edition of The Fire Safety Event Asia demonstrated the growing demand for dedicated fire safety platforms in the region. As organisations continue to invest in fire protection, compliance and life safety, the event provides an important opportunity for industry professionals to connect, share expertise and discover the latest innovations. We are delighted to be strengthening our involvement in 2026 through the UK Pavilion and look forward to supporting greater collaboration between the UK and Asia Pacific fire safety communities.”

Part of Safety & Security Asia

FSEA will be co-located with The Security Event Asia, The Health & Safety Event Asia, Pro Integration Future Asia, and a newly launched show, The Emergency Services Show Asia. Together, the five events under the Safety & Security Asia portfolio are expected to attract more than 13,000 industry professionals, creating a comprehensive platform for knowledge exchange, business development and cross-sector collaboration.

With one pass, visitors can access all five events over three days, gaining a comprehensive view of regional safety and security priorities while exploring the latest technologies, solutions and best practices shaping the future of the industry.

Visitor registration is now open.
