[FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE]

The Security Event Asia 2026 Opens in Singapore, Welcoming a Growing Regional Security Community and Expanded UK Exhibitor Presence

- The second edition attracts more security professionals from across Asia Pacific and welcomes a larger UK delegation of exhibitors, strengthening international participation and cross-border industry engagement.
- With the support of ASIS International APAC and its Singapore Chapter in curating the Security Exchange, the event provides a platform for meaningful dialogue, knowledge sharing and collaboration on emerging safety and security challenges.

Singapore, 10 November 2026 – The Security Event Asia (TSEA) returns to the Sands Expo & Convention Centre, Singapore, from 10 to 12 November 2026, for its second edition. Building on the success of its inaugural edition, the 2026 event welcomes a larger community of regional security professionals and an expanded international exhibitor presence, including a stronger UK delegation, reflecting growing international interest in the region's security market.

Bringing together more than 125 exhibitors and over 4,000 security professionals, TSEA showcases more than 10,000 products and solutions spanning access control, perimeter protection, AI-driven security technologies and integrated command systems. Beyond product showcases, the event serves as a meeting point for industry leaders, technology providers, consultants, end users and government stakeholders to exchange expertise, explore emerging solutions and develop partnerships. By connecting international innovation with regional market needs, TSEA aims to support the adoption of smarter, more integrated and future-ready security solutions across Asia Pacific.

TSEA is part of Safety & Security Asia (SSA), a comprehensive industry platform comprising five co-located events: The Fire Safety Event Asia (FSEA), The Health & Safety Event Asia (HSEA), the newly launched Emergency Services Show Asia (ESSA) and Pro Integration Future Asia (PIFA). Together, the five co-located events are expected to welcome over 13,000 trade professionals.

A single complimentary visitor pass provides access to all five events, creating opportunities for cross-sector engagement and encouraging greater collaboration between the safety, security, fire protection, emergency services and integration industries.

A key highlight on 10 November is the Security Exchange, curated with the support of ASIS International APAC, its Singapore Chapter and Overseas Security Advisory Council Singapore Chapter (OSAC Singapore Chapter), bringing regional security leaders together for dialogue, knowledge sharing and networking. The day will conclude with the Outstanding Security Performance Awards (OPSAs) Ceremony, celebrating excellence and innovation across the security industry.

Organised by

TSEA is honoured to welcome Mr Zhulkarnain Abdul Rahim, Minister of State, Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Ministry of Home Affairs, as Guest of Honour at the Security Industry Conference where the Merlion Awards winners will be announced.

The event will also welcome Mr Shaun Hipgrave, Director of National Security Protect & Prepare, UK Home Office, underscoring the growing international engagement and strong UK presence at this year's edition. His participation further strengthens opportunities for knowledge exchange and collaboration between UK and Asia Pacific security stakeholders, particularly in addressing shared and emerging security challenges.

Tristan Norman, Group Managing Director at Nineteen Group, "The second edition of The Security Event Asia marks an important milestone in expanding our presence across Asia Pacific. We are seeing more emerging technologies and innovative solutions entering the security marketplace, with APAC representing a key demand market for these developments. TSEA provides a platform for industry leaders and technology innovators to connect, exchange knowledge and explore solutions to evolving security challenges. We look forward to growing the event with our partners and delivering lasting value to the regional security community."

A Regional Audience with Strong Buying Influence

TSEA welcomes a diverse regional audience, with close to 30% attendees travelling from overseas, including countries including Malaysia, Hong Kong, Australia, Indonesia and Vietnam. Visiting delegations from across the region further strengthen its international reach, with the Philippines contributing the largest group.

More than 40% of are senior decision-makers, including Directors, C-suite executives and business owners including CapitaLand Investment, Singapore Police Force, Standard Chartered Bank, ERA Group, offering exhibitors valuable opportunities to connect with key buyers and explore new business partnerships.

Sharok Gerami, Managing Director, Commend UK, said: "Returning to The Security Event Asia in 2026 reflects our confidence in the region's growing demand for integrated security and communication solutions. The event offers a valuable opportunity to engage directly with end users and decision-makers who are actively exploring technologies to meet increasingly complex operational needs. We look forward to demonstrating how intelligent communication can support safer, more connected environments."

"As Nineteen Group's Global Partner, we are proud to be part of its expanding portfolio of leading industry events and to play a role in establishing The Security Event Asia as a key platform for the region. The previous edition demonstrated the strong appetite for greater industry engagement and collaboration across Asia. We are excited to return, reconnect with the security community and contribute to building stronger partnerships, driving innovation and unlocking new opportunities across the region."

Where Security Leaders, Ideas and Innovation Converge
