AirPlus Virtual Cards Travel Trade:
The digital solution for travel-
related online and ad hoc payments.

- > AirPlus Virtual Cards Travel Trade are the digital form of conventional plastic credit cards.
- > Use them for all your travel services worldwide thanks to the Mastercard® network.
- > Virtual cards have a card number, CVC and expiry date – everything you need for payment and booking. The difference? You create a new one digitally for each payment.

AirPlus Travel Trade Account: Global coverage

The AirPlus Travel Trade Account is accepted by all providers accepting UATP plus several additional suppliers:

- > More than 250 airlines worldwide
- > Railway companies
- > Hotel and meeting platforms
- > Other travel services, such as visa requests

More details

- > Our central solution fully automates the payment process and integrates into your established booking platforms and mid/ back-office systems. Transaction information and additional accounting details on single-line-item level make it easier to allocate costs and derive payment insights. Extended payment terms also bolster cash flow.
- > Designed for travel service companies like TMCs, bedbanks, OTAs, tour operators, and many more: The AirPlus Travel Trade Account also offers you clearly structured collective electronic statements that display all your customised transaction details and company billing information. These digital statements make it easy to allocate booked travel services to customers and reduce your workload.

“ Typical for the travel trade industry, my company books very many flights. We rely on a stable payment management product that integrates different types of airline transactions seamlessly into our processes. ”

The AirPlus Travel Trade Account is the central booking solution for global travel payment. Seamless end-to-end solutions mean happy travel trade staff. Concentrate on your job, not paperwork.

AirPlus Virtual Cards Travel Trade: Fully accepted in the Mastercard network worldwide

Pay with your virtual card globally with millions of merchants, available in 17 countries for payments made around the world:

Australia, Austria, Belgium, Denmark, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Ireland, Italy, Luxembourg, Netherlands, New Zealand, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, United Kingdom, USA.

“ As a travel agency, I often have to pay in advance when making bookings for my customers. That not only raises my risk, but also weighs on cash flow. I also have to put a lot of time and effort into defaults, including dunning. ”

With AirPlus Virtual Cards Travel Trade and extended payment terms, you can improve your cash flow while lowering your own risk. You no longer need to pay in advance using your personal credit card. The additional data provided by AirPlus Virtual Cards also makes it easier to associate travel services that have been booked with the relevant customer transactions, making less work for you.

More details

- > Each card number can be limited to a specific booking, and set to a specific amount, validity period, and currency. This ensures that your travel trade virtual cards are both secure and flexible, especially for your booking agents, managing multiple payments on multiple channels every day.
- > Cards can be generated through several channels like the AirPlus Portal, integration partners or direct integration into proprietary systems.
- > All transactions are invoiced with a single central, clearly organised statement. Additional transaction data (such as booking and reservation numbers) saves you time allocating expenses and seamlessly links from payment to booking.
