HOLE 3 | BRABAZON

A drive to the left hand side of the fairway will shorten the hole allowing the longest hitters to consider going for the green in two. For those who lay up short of the lake, the approach shot requires correct club selection. Any shot to the front will come back off the green.

HOLE 5 | BRABAZON

Aim to lay up short of the right hand bunker from the tee. Club selection is key for the approach shot to this very wide but shallow green. Any shot falling short is swallowed by the traps; any shot too long will be faced with a tricky chip.

The newly re-modelled 6th hole in 2007 offers risk and reward. A bold tee shot up the left half of the fairway will tempt the golfer to attack a well guarded undulating green.

HOLE 7 | BRABAZON

The two large greenside bunkers will collect a stray shot from which an up and down is not straightforward. The key to finding the upturned saucer shaped green is to land the ball squarely into its centre, regardless of the pin placement.

One of the most iconic holes in golf! If tempted to go for the green, only a perfect fade will make it past the high trees guarding the right and avoiding the water on the left. Alternatively, play safe down the right hand side of the fairway to leave a short approach to the green.

The further left the drive, the shorter the second shot, but this carries the risk of finding a watery grave. The percentage shot is aimed at the fairway bunker with a draw. The approach shot can be up to five club lengths different into one of the world's greatest greens. Three tiers sloping towards the water requires a great touch.
