ABOUT US

*Cashel
Travel*

We are a family business founded in 2001. The owners are Marta Kucharczyk and James Aitken. James Aitken has been in the travel industry since the early 1990s and has been one of the leading entrepreneurs in the Scottish industry owning and running three companies before founding Cashel Travel. Earlier in 2024, a strategic partnership between Alainn Tours and Cashel Travel was made to create even more amazing travel experiences for our valued clients. We do our utmost to provide programmes and events that are bespoke and unique and we pride ourselves on having within the company some of the most expert staff in the industry. As a DMC we handle events from a few individuals up to several thousand guests and have worked with some of the largest blue-chip companies on the planet. We have over 60 staff from all over the world and can communicate in 12 different languages. We have offices in Edinburgh, London & Sligo.

SUSTAINABILITY

Cashel
Travel

The United Kingdom and Ireland emerge as a wealth of distinctive experiences, steeped in historical heritage and cultural richness, serving as the cradle for both sports and literature. Whether exploring iconic golf venues or embarking on personalised craft distillery tours, Cashel Travel is dedicated to crafting immersive and exclusive experiences for our clients. In 2024, Cashel Travel has achieved the Green Tourism Silver Award. It means that our work has been recognised by a world-leading third-party accreditation. Sustainability is our primary focus and we prioritise positive contributions to local communities and the environment. Each visit with Cashel Travel becomes a purposeful and eco-conscious adventure, making meaningful connections while leaving a positive impact.
