RECOGNISING SUSTAINED CONTRIBUTIONS TO PRODUCT DEVELOPMENT

Established in 2007, The Gottelier Award, named in memory of the late product developer Tony Gottelier, celebrates the sustained or significant contributions of the people behind the products that have influenced our industry over the decades.

NOMINATED AND VOTED FOR BY THE INDUSTRY

THE PROCESS

The Gottelier Award process calls upon the industry for nominations via both PLASA and LSi digital channels, including a combined email audience of 40,000+ industry professionals across web and social media platforms.

These nominees are then shortlisted by a team of trusted industry experts, led by long-standing LSi editor, Claire Beeson.

The successful nominees are then presented for voting via email exclusively to PLASA Show pre-registered visitors, PLASA Members and LSi readers.

The digital voting process is limited to one vote per email address.
