Eggshell Membrane: A Skin Health Collagen Revolution

Featured Product: Eggshell Membrane (ingredient in Skin Glow)

Skin Glow contains a unique blend of ingredients including eggshell membrane collagen. How does this formulation work to support skin health and how is it different from conventional collagen supplements?

How is it possible for Skin Glow to deliver such visible results with a relatively small collagen dose, especially when many studies cite 10–15g as the effective daily intake?

How does Eggnovo ensure bioavailability and quality in its eggshell membrane ingredients, and what differentiates them from other collagen sources in the market?

Ceramosides™: Plant-Based Power for Skin Hydration

Featured Product: Ceramosides™ (ingredient in Skin Glow)

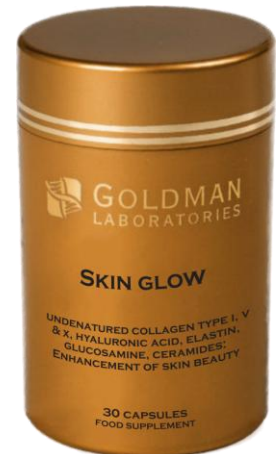

Ceramosides™ is a key ingredient in Skin Glow. How do its phytoceramides improve skin hydration and what evidence supports its use in nutri-cosmetic applications?

From Seppic's perspective, how does Ceramosides™ align with current clean beauty trends and what makes it particularly relevant for today's supplement consumers?

Sustainability is becoming a key driver in ingredient sourcing. How does Seppic ensure that Ceramosides™ is produced in an eco-conscious way, and what steps have you taken to reduce environmental impact across its supply chain?

Greenluronic®: Botanical Hyaluronic Acid Innovation

Featured Product: Greenluronic® (ingredient in Skin Glow)

Greenluronic® is a plant-based alternative to hyaluronic acid. How does it work to support hydration and elasticity in a product like Skin Glow?

What innovations or research is Vivatis Pharma pursuing in the green chemistry space to enhance the efficacy of plant-based actives like Greenluronic®?

Greenluronic® stands out not just for being plant-based, but also for its green chemistry credentials. Can you share how the ingredient reflects Vivatis Pharma's sustainability philosophy — from raw material sourcing to manufacturing?

Biomimetic Collagen Innovation: Vegan Formulations

Featured Product: Vegan Protein Collagen Shake by ELEV8NG

Goldman Laboratories is also introducing a new vegan collagen protein shake. Can you share how this biomimetic formula works and the role it plays in expanding collagen options for vegan and plant-based consumers?

Since collagen is absent in plants, how does your vegan collagen formulation replicate its structure or stimulate its production — and how does it compare functionally to traditional collagen?
