Your route to market, all under one roof at ExCeL, London

The Stone Show & Hard Surfaces returns for its 16th edition with a larger, higher-value audience than ever before...

You'll continue to benefit from being part of the market leading event for the sector with over 25 years of industry expertise, but also be co-locating with UK Construction Week and Grand Designs Live for the first time. This new partnership with Media10 (organisers of Clerkenwell Design Week), will put the Stone Show and Hard Surfaces alongside the largest design and construction show in London, welcoming more than 25,000 trade visitors across 3 show days. Connect your business with a vast, high-quality community of building professionals and allow it to benefit both from our specialist focus, and a wider construction event that delivers 300+ seminars, 20+ live demonstrations and 400+ exhibitors.

The Stone Show & Hard Surfaces will retain its unique focus with its own dedicated marketing and independent visitor registration; an insightful seminar programme; awards for the latest emerging industry talent; The Industry Choice Award for best stone project from the last 18 months; and networking events for groups such as the Women In Natural Stone, and architects in stone.

Working closer than ever before with key industry partners such as Stone Federation Great Britain, Worktop Fabricators Federation, RIBA and Historic England, the Stone Show spans across the full breadth of the UK masonry marketplace, from design & specification, to working & maintenance.

If your marketplace is stone slabs, tiling or block; ceramic, porcelain, engineered quartz, ultra compact surfaces (UCS) or sintered stone; CNC machinery; diamond tooling; the latest fixing systems; sealants; adhesives; cleaning materials or any other related products and services, then the Stone Show and Hard Surfaces is for you.

The Elizabeth Line - transforming travel across London to the Stone Show & Hard Surfaces

The long-anticipated opening of the Elizabeth Line has made it even easier, faster, and more convenient to visit ExCeL. With the UK's leading venue now having its own dedicated Elizabeth Line station, journey times will be cut by up to two thirds, with the resulting time saved leading to a significant increase in networking and commercial trade from delegates.

The high-speed Elizabeth line – which now becomes part of the existing TfL network – stretches more than 60 miles from Reading and Heathrow in the west to Shenfield and Abbey Wood in the east, with 24 trains running per hour from May.

For ExCeL, visitors from central London will now be able to reach the venue in as little as 12 minutes; from Paddington (20 mins), Tottenham Court Road (15 mins), Farringdon (12 mins), Liverpool Street (10 mins), Whitechapel (9 mins) and Canary Wharf (3 mins).
